FORTUNES LOST BY ERROR IN TIP ON COURT'S ACT

No Income Tax on Stock Dividends.

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—Two decisions handed down today by the United States Supreme court stirred the stock markets centering in Wall street more than they have been stirred in months. During the last two hours of the stock exchange session more than 1,000,000 shares changed hands. A big dip in prices, caused by a false report of one of the decisions, was followed when the truth was learned, by a surging advance, which exceeded anything thus far seen in 1920.

The decision which mainly stirred the market was the Supreme court's announcement that stock dividends of corporations are not taxable as income.

Present Rail Valuations.

The other decision handed down in Washington was that valuations of railroad property must be based on costs of present replacements rather than on original cost.

Both decisions are regarded in stock market circles as having "bullish" effects.

The decision exempting stock dividends from liability to income tax will force the government to return a vast sum already collected. The amount is estimated tonight at $100,000,000.

It is prophesied that a large amount of money cutting by large industrial corporations that have piled up big surplus accounts will follow the stock dividend decision.

Wild Flurry on "Street."

There was intense excitement in Wall street for a time. The first erroneous flash was sent out by the Dow Jones and company representative at Washington. It said the decision upheld the constitutionality of the law taxing stock dividends. It was reported here tonight that not only this taker agency, but one of the afternoon news agencies had also misinterpreted the decision as it was being read in the court.

According to the representative of the Dow Jones agency, forty minutes elapsed between the time he had sent out the first erroneous report and the correction.

The expected decision on stock dividends has been a matter of speculation in the minds of brokers ever since the case, Macomber vs. Elmer, was taken on appeal from the lower court to the Washington tribunal.

Woman Brings Suit.

Mrs. Mabel Macomber had brought the suit originally to prevent Elmer, an internal revenue collector from levying on 1,100 shares of Standard Oil stock she had received in dividends. The case was argued twice in the last year and finally reached the Supreme court on appeal, the judgement of the lower court being upheld.

Numerous corporations which were ready to declare stock dividends had postponed action until the decision was rendered. This gave the case great importance in financial circles, and brokers have been on the watch for the decision for weeks.

It was not easy for Wall street to figure out just how it was that the decision of the United States Supreme court could be so wrongly interpreted. It seemed to be the case, but the explanation came later in the day, toward 4 o'clock. Because of an apparent correction given to the Dow Jones report by an afternoon news service, the correction of the false report was slow in being made.

See Error in Report.

It was only when the statement came over the wires that the lower court was upheld—which appears very much like a correction of the opinion delivered by Justice Pitney—that it was realized that the first flash was wrong.

This did not prevent the loss of fortunes on the stock exchange, however, because when the correction came the reaction in the market was so sudden that those who had sold could not recover the stocks they had thrown overboard. The shorts could not cover the stock they had put out when the break came without piling up debit charges. It was one of those instances where very few could get the best of it; all got the worst of it and thousands were sick, sick, and disgusted.

HOG RAISER HELD AS DIRECTOR OF $100,000 THEFTS

Ex-Cop Names Slayer; Five Confess.

BULLETIN.

At 3 o'clock this morning Richard Wilson was bought to the state's attorney's office to be questioned. The state's attorney's detectives and the police voiced the belief that he is the slayer of Thomas O'Donnell, watchman for the Western Shade Cloth company.

Wilson, who was named by Guy Wadsworth in his confession as the slayer of O'Donnell, was arrested at Kinzie and Wells streets.

Holding confessions from five men, with a sixth in custody and detectives closing on two others, Assistant State's Attorney John M. Lowery announced last night that one of the most successful gangs of safe blowers that ever worked in Chicago had been rounded up.

The leader of the gang, according to the state's attorney, is Guy Wadsworth, 34 years old, a farmer of Dolton, Thornton township. Wadsworth is a discharged policeman who has been leading a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde existence for seven years. By day he farmed; by night he robbed safes.

Wadsworth, known as "Ropes" because he always bound the watchman on the plant, was discharged from the police department for stealing, it is said. This morning he will be formally charged with the murder of Thomas O'Donnell, a watchman, who was killed Feb. 7.

Others Under Arrest.

The other members of the gang under arrest are Leo Rycheil, Matt Rycheil, 3420 Parnell avenue; Ben Rycheil, 7130 Emerald avenue; David Goldberg, owner of the Auburn Iron and Metal company, 7425 Green street; Otto Polanski, 3247 Emerald avenue, a former employe of the Liquid Carbonic company, Thirty-first street and Kedzie avenue.

Tony Hopp, 7941 Euclid avenue, a police department chauffeur, is also mentioned by Assistant State's Attorney Lowery, who will press charges against the man before the civil service commission if the evidence proves sufficient to warrant his arrest. Hopp walked beat with Wadsworth ten years ago and they were close friends. A number of stolen automobiles tires were found in Hopp's garage. Wadsworth admitted he put them there.

The O'Donnell Murder.

The murder of Thomas O'Donnell caused a small sensation a month ago. The man was a watchman for the Western Shade Cloth company, Twenty-first street and Jefferson avenue. He refused to take the six armed and masked bandits seriously. One of them shot the man as he lay bound but smiling at his feet. All of the men escaped.

Wadsworth wears a sealskin cap, high topped felt boots, khaki trousers, an olive drab shirt, and a dark coat. He looks like a farmer, and according to the police has used the same guise ever since he left the police department.

The first clue to the bandit gang came to the state's attorney's office in an anonymous letter, obviously from a woman. Leo Rycheil was arrested. Then Lieut. Edward Grady, Detective Sergeant John J. Farrell, Edward A. Weber, Edward T. Murphy, James Garry, and Assistant State's Attorney Lowery took charge of the case.

Prisoner Gives Tip.

Within a few hours Rycheil's two brothers, Matt and Ben, were under arrest. Leo told the detectives that a man, whom he knew only as "Kelly," had come to him for information regarding the payroll of the Western Shade Cloth company.

Confessions were secured from the three Rycheil brothers. Goldberg and Polanski were arrested and confessed that they had helped "Kelly" later established Wadsworth, commit three burglaries.

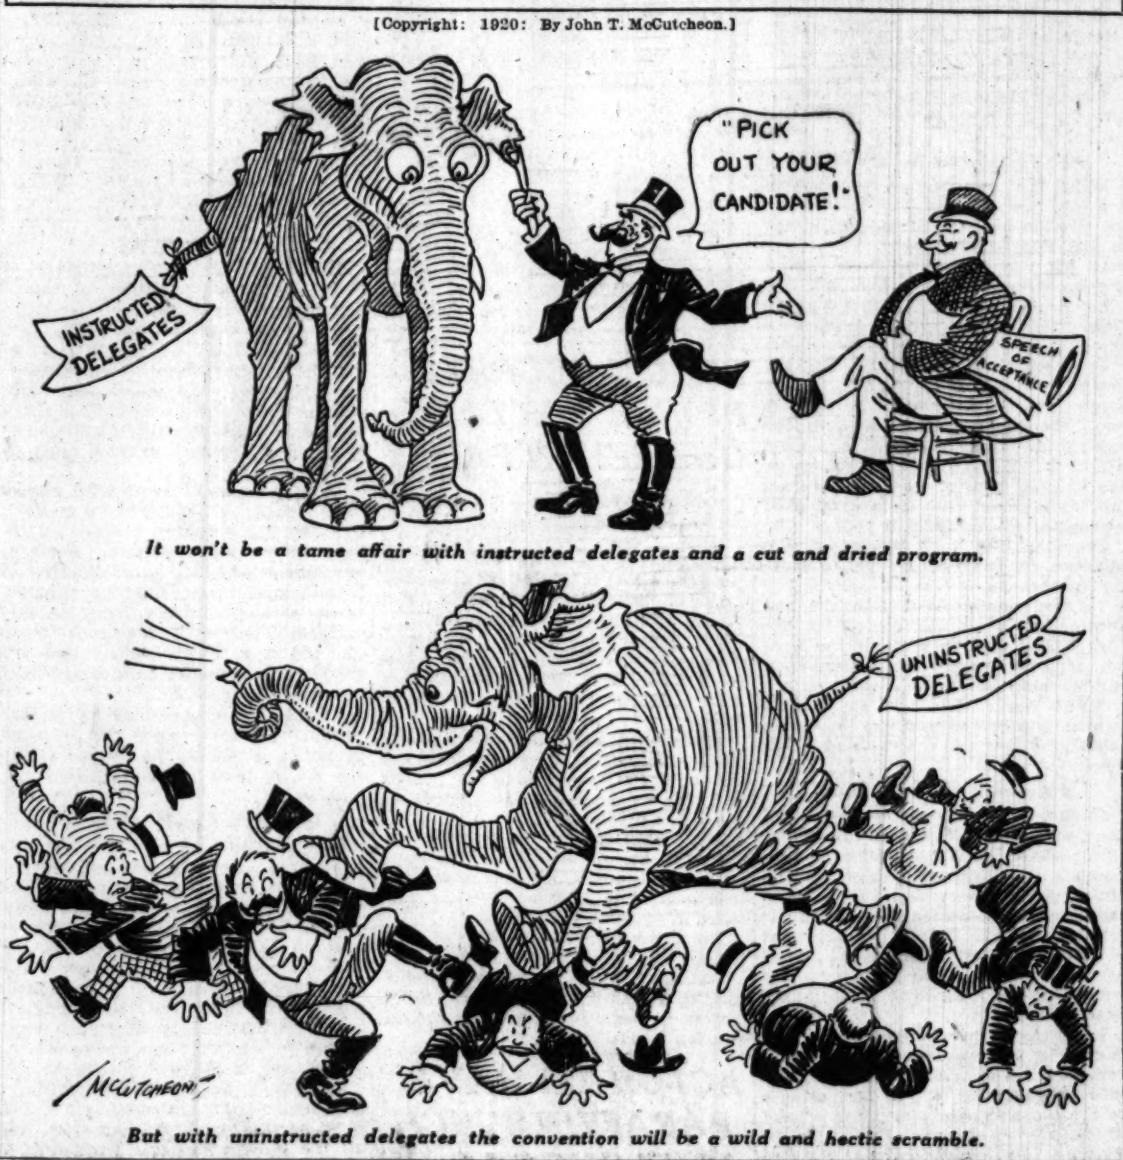

The three jobs are listed as follows: The Liquid Carbonic company, Thirty-first street and Kedzie avenue, Watchman bound. Robbers frightened. R. P. Miller Tire company, 10855 Michigan avenue, Feb. 28. Watchman bound; $3,000 worth of tires stolen. S. T. Corydon, dry goods store, 2704 West North avenue, Jan. 25, 1919; $15,000 worth of merchandise stolen. Goods recovered in the Twelfth Street store, recovered in the Twelfth Street store.

$100,000 Thefts Involved.

Assistant State's Attorney John M. Lowery asserted that the arrests will solve at least twenty safe blowings and burglaries, involving $100,000 worth of goods and money.

Wadsworth is married and has three children. He was arrested for a burglary in 1915. He was arrested for stealing from railroad cars a few months later, and the same year was accused of stealing automobiles.

THIS YEAR'S CONVENTION PROMISES TO BE INTERESTING

It won't be a tame affair with instructed delegates and a cut and dried program. But with uninstructed delegates the convention will be a wild and hectic scramble.

RACE THROUGH AIR TO PUT OVER SUFFRAGE, PLAN

Ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment by West Virginia may depend on whether Senator William Bloch of that state will make the trip from Chicago to Cincinnati by airplane today.

The state senate is deadlocked 14 to 14, on ratification. Senator Bloch is for ratification. He has been in California. On an "SOS" from the suffragists, he started east, and will arrive here at 11:30 o'clock this morning on his way back to the state capital to break the tie. The West Virginia legislature is being held in session pending Bloch's arrival.

Victor Heintz of the Republican national committee made the arrangement last night for the airplane. The idea is to get the senator to Cincinnati before 7 o'clock this evening, when he can catch a train for Charleston. If Senator Bloch isn't "air-broke," a special train will be used.

NO SESSION IN VERMONT.

Burlington, Vt., March 8.—Governor Clement today again refused a request from woman suffrage leaders that he call the state legislature in special session to vote on the suffrage amendment.

His statement to a delegation of seven women who called on him was: "My reason for not calling the legislature at this time is because this question changes the state constitution and I believe that any change in the state constitution should be made only after it has been submitted to the voters of the state. This is one of the provisions of the state constitution."

GIANT U.S. PLANES TO FLY PACIFIC

8,777 Miles in 4 Hops, California to China.

New York, March 8.—Two giant flying boats for the first flight across the Pacific ocean, are being planned, according to the Manufacturers' Aircraft association. These planes will be nearly twice the size of the NC-4, which made the first trans-Atlantic flight.

The proposed route lies from San Francisco to Hongkong, China, a distance of 7,618 nautical miles, or about 8,777 land miles. Stops will be made at Honolulu, Wake Island, Guam, and Manila.

Triple Engine Power.

The flight has been made possible, the association says, by an invention of Edson Gallaudet of East Greenwich, R. I., whereby three Liberty engines are coupled to one eighteen foot propeller. The new boats will have three separate power plants, each containing three high compression Liberty engines, or nine motors to each ship.

The boats will be triplanes with a wing spread of 140 feet, as compared with a spread of 126½ feet of the NC boats. Each boat will have a wing area of about 6,000 feet and carry a crew of sixteen men. The hulls will be sixty-seven feet long, twenty-two feet longer than that of the NC-4. The cruising radius is estimated at 2,100 nautical miles, nearly twice that of the NC craft.

Repairs While En Route.

Three high compression motors will drive each of the three propellers. Each unit of three motors will be installed in a separate nacelle, thus making possible repairs while in flight. Each propeller will be driven by two motors with one in reserve.

Enough gasoline can be carried to permit a cruising radius of 2,500 land miles without stopping.

Bolsheviks at Odessa Get Cruiser and Other Craft

LONDON, March 8.—The bolsheviks at Odessa captured the Russian cruiser Admiral Nakhimoff, four fast torpedo boat destroyers, one scout vessel, one steamer, three trawlers, two cutters and two submarines, according to a wireless communication today from Moscow.

BRITISH DEBT TO U. S. TO BE PAID BY HOME CASH

LONDON, March 8.—J. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, in the house of commons today explained the decision not to renew the Anglo-French loan in the United States. He stated Great Britain in providing its half had no intention of reborrowing outside the United Kingdom any part of the sum required so that when the loan is repaid Great Britain will have reduced its external debt by more than £50,000,000. The chancellor added:

"We shall employ for the purpose resources already available in the United States and to the extent to which they are not sufficient we shall ship gold. We have already made a beginning by buying Anglo-French bonds in the market at a considerable discount below par."

Thought Husband Slain; Married Again; Divorced

Durham, N. C., March 8.—Mrs. Ida Page Griffin, the central figure in Durham's modern Elmer Gurney case, today was granted a divorce from Walter Griffin, the husband with whom she was living when T. O. Page, her first husband, believed dead, returned from army service.

Mrs. Page was officially notified by army officials of her first husband's death. Some time later she married Griffin. Only a few months ago the first husband returned to Durham.

Recently Mrs. Griffin announced her intention of divorcing both husbands.

Britain Only Going to Pay Its Envoy to U. S. $100,000

LONDON, March 8.—The British ambassador at Washington will hereafter receive £20,000 yearly (normally $100,000). His salary will be £2,500 and entertainment allowance £17,500. Premier Lloyd George made this announcement in the house of lords this afternoon. The government has arranged the finances of the office on the basis of depriving itself of income tax in order to give the ambassador an adequate income. The salary heretofore was £10,000 with a comparatively small allowance. That salary was largely eaten up by the income tax.

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—Harry Hahn, 17 years old, stepped on a piece of paper today on lower Broadway. He picked it up and found that it was an order on the Bank of Montreal to give the bearer $120,000 in railroad bonds. The boy returned it to a brokerage firm and received a reward of $2 and the information that he was an honest lad.

"CLIF" BLEYER AND DIVORCEE FOUND SLAIN

Gun and Verses Tell Tragic Story.

In the bedroom of an apartment at 3607 Lake Park avenue the police found the bodies of two people last night—a man and a woman. There was a bullet hole in the right temple of the woman, and another in the left temple of the man. A revolver lay between them, but near the hand of the woman.

The man was Clifford Melville Bleyer, 36 years old, head of the Clifford Bleyer Advertising agency at 20 East Jackson boulevard, whose wife and two daughters, Pauline and Jacqueline, live at 918 Galt avenue. He was the son of Col. Charles E. Bleyer, a manufacturers' agent, who lives at the Union League club.

The woman was Mrs. Ruth Randall, divorced wife of Norman Brown Randall, an overseas soldier. She was 27 years old, an advertising copy writer, and she loved "Cliff" Bleyer and wanted to be his wife.

Believe Woman Was Slayer.

It is believed that Mrs. Randall shot and killed Bleyer as he lay sleeping by her side, and then killed herself. The positions of the bodies in their last sleep bears out this theory. Bleyer lay face down, one hand under his head, the other thrust out toward the woman. She was lying on her back, slightly turned toward the man, one hand reaching above her head, the other near the weapon.

The two must have died late Saturday night or Sunday morning. The milk delivered Sunday noon and the Sunday newspaper were found outside the back door.

It was Saturday night that Mrs. Bleyer last heard from her husband. He said he would not be home for dinner. When he did not call up Sunday or Monday she called the office, and the discovery followed.

Played Only One Song.

It was about 8 p. m. when the police went into the apartment, on the third floor of the building.

The tenants in the lower floors were questioned. They didn't know Mrs. Randall; had never seen her. But they had heard her play the piano. They said she played but one song, and then they knew she had company. Sometimes they heard a man's voice, but generally the only sound from the flat was that old song on the piano. They didn't know what it was, they said, but it was sweet and soft and there was melancholy in it.

There was a piano in the flat, a humidifier for cigarettes, packages of cards, dice and a dice box, books, magazines, male and female attire, furniture of good quality and style—and in the woman's little teakwood desk, a curious book with blank pages.

Fine Stray Poem.

It was a book with thick heavy cardboard covers, done in the Renaissance style, with a picture of the Madonna and Child on the front. One of the gray sheets, torn from the book, was found on the floor near the bed. It contained a poem believed to have been written by the woman. The detectives wondered whether she had not read it to the man—before he went to sleep.

There was no title line to the poem, and no quotation marks. It read:

Sleep, my beloved, sleep!
Be patient! We shall keep
Our secret closely hid
Beneath the coffin lid.

There is no other place in earth or air
For such a love as ours, or such deep despair!
And neither hell nor heaven shall care to win
Our loath'd souls, rejoicing in their sin!

Sleep, for my hand is sure.
The cold steel bright and pure
Strikes through thy heart and mine,
Shedding our blood like wine.

Sin's sweetness is too sweet, and if the shame
Of love must be our curse we hurt the blame
Back on the gods who gave us love with breath,
And tortured us from passion into death!

The book, and a few other articles, were taken to the Cottage Grove avenue.

Allies Plan to Take and Hold Turk Capital

BULLETIN.

BIZERTA, Northern Africa, March 8.—A British squadron which arrived here from Oran has proceeded for Constantinople.

This probably is the British squadron of four battleships, one cruiser, and ten destroyers which arrived at Algiers on March 4. Algiers lies about midway between Oran to the south, southwest, and Bizerta, the most northern point of the coast of Africa.

LONDON, March 8.—It was intimated in official circles tonight that the occupation of Constantinople by allied troops will be made permanent, the city never to be returned to the Turks.

Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons today declared, in answer to questions regarding the Turkish situation, that instruction for immediate drastic action had been dispatched to the allied representatives there. He added that it would be inadvisable to disclose these instructions at the present time.

The drastic action was decided on, it is said, following reports of outbreaks which brought about a British declaration of martial law in the areas occupied by their troops.

The Turks are said to be agitating among the Mesopotamians, Thracians and Arabians, urging them to rise against the British.

Can Get Bigger Force.

The Daily Mail says that in addition to the British forces in the neighborhood of Constantinople, further forces will be moved there from the British "Army of the Black Sea." The Mail understands that some regiments in England also have been ordered to be in readiness to embark for the near east.

Coincident with the British plans in Constantinople, Lloyd George announced in commons that prompt measures had been taken by France to send reinforcements to Gen. Gouraud, commander of French forces in the east, for the purpose of reestablishing his position and preventing further attacks on Armenians.

The French in Cilicia are reported to be seriously threatened by the Turk forces. To date the French losses there total 158 killed, 278 wounded, and 181 missing.

Turk Capital Occupied?

A dispatch from Paris today says that Constantinople is actually occupied by allied troops, which are made up of one French division and about 15,000 to 16,000 men additional. This report is not verified.

In addition, the dispatch says, there is one regiment of Italian and a battalion of British troops, and there are other British troops in the region of the straits.

Confirms Massacre of 15,000.

Dr. Kennedy, in charge of the lord mayors' relief fund at Adana, where there are about 35,000 Armenian refugees, has sent a message to Anwarin Williams, member of the house of commons, confirming the fact that 15,000 Armenians were massacred in the Marash district.

The city was burned, and has not been relieved. Thirteen hundred women and children perished in a snowstorm on their flight to Adana. Eight thousand Armenians are still at Marash, and many of them are wounded. Adana, adds the message, is not immediately threatened, but there is anxiety and no confidence in the security of the district.

Protest Against Seizure.

LUCKNOW, March 6.—[Delayed.]—The council of the All-India Moslem league has adopted a resolution protesting against the campaign to take Constantinople from the Turk. It declares that insistence upon this will "drive the Mohammedans to desperate action."

WILSON INSISTS ON ARTICLE X. OR 'NO TREATY'

Refuses to Agree to Reservations.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—With a fervent appeal to the senate and the country to consider "what it is possible to accomplish for humanity," instead of "special national interests," President Wilson put forth his supreme effort today to defeat the Lodge reservations to the league of nations covenant.

In a letter to Senator Hitchcock the president condemned the reservations as a nullification of the covenant, asserted that destruction of the moral obligation of article 10 to intervene in foreign quarrels would be a breach of good faith and declared that if the United States cannot enter the league with full responsibility it should retire "as gracefully as possible from the great concert of powers."

"Hands Off Article 10."

Demanding hands off article 10, of which he is the author and which he pronounced the foundation of the league, the president paid his respects not only to the reservationists, but to the allies for their approval of American reservations, charging France and Italy with militarism and—possibly with Lord Grey of England in mind—asserting that he would not trust the "salvation of the world" to the "council of diplomats."

On all sides at the senate the president's letter was accepted as the death knell of the treaty. The Republican reservationists and their Democratic supporters proclaimed anew their insistence upon the protection of national interest.

Stiffens Ranks of Democrats.

The voice from the White House stiffened the ranks of the administration Democrats, minimized the possibility of Democratic revolt and destroyed practically all hope of a compromise that would command a two-thirds vote for ratification. The general conclusion is that the president would pocket the treaty if sent to him with the Lodge reservations.

The declaration for a league without reservations or no league at all was also accepted as the keynote of the issue the president contemplates carrying into the election either with himself or a selected spokesman as the Democratic candidate. The declaration is a challenge to William J. Bryan, who only yesterday pronounced it suicidal for the Democratic party to make the covenant without reservations an issue in the campaign.

Calls Ratification Impossible.

Senator Hitchcock agreed that ratification was apparently impossible as the present but insisted that Mr. Wilson's letters had not produced any change in the situation.

Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, declined to make any extended statement about the letter, but said there are some delightful passages in it, particularly the one in which he attacks France.

The Republican "irreconcilables" hailed the president's letter with delight as insuring defeat of the treaty.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S LETTER

President Wilson's letter to Senator Hitchcock follows:

"I understand that one or two of your colleagues do me the honor of desiring to know what my views are with reference to article X. of the league of nations and the effect upon the league of the adoption of certain proposed reservations to that article. I welcome the opportunity to throw any light I can upon a subject which has become so singularly clouded by misapprehensions and misinterpretations of every kind.

"There is no escaping the moral obligations which are expressed in positive terms in this article of the covenant. We won a moral victory over Germany far greater even than the military victory won on the field of battle, because the opinion of the whole world swung to our support and the support of the nations associated with us in the great struggle.

Promises Should Be Kept.

"It did so because of our common profession and promise that we meant to establish 'an organization of peace which should make it certain that the combined power of free nations would check every invasion of right and serve to make peace and justice the more secure by affording a definite tribunal of opinion to which all must submit and

DRIVE ON DRY ACT STARTS IN SUPREME COURT

Rhode Island Batters at 18th Amendment.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—Constitutionality of nationwide prohibition by federal amendment was argued before the United States Supreme court today.

Rhode Island's contention that the prohibition amendment to the constitution is "usurpation of the power of state" by the federal government, was presented at the initial hearings in the important controversy by Herbert A. Rice, attorney general of that commonwealth.

Shortly before Mr. Rice began his argument Charles Evans Hughes Jr., son of former Associate Justice Hughes, appeared as a friend of the amendment, representing twenty-four states in support of the decision of the District court that the prohibition amendment is constitutional. Elihu Root was present as counsel for the United States Brewers' association.

Out of Court's Hands King.
Solicitor General Alexander C. King at the department of justice takes the view that the question presented is a "political question," and therefore not subject to review by the courts.

The attorney general of Rhode Island and other attorneys for the "wet" side contend that it is a justifiable one and therefore subject to determination by the court.

Attorney General based almost his entire argument on the meaning of the word "amendment." He contended that to "amend" means to correct an error, and that the prohibition amendment is not in reality an amendment, but an enlargement of the constitution.

Mr. Rice had not proceeded five minutes with his argument until he was interrupted by Associate Justice Pitney.

"I do not discuss that in my brief," replied the attorney.

"I noticed that and I wondered about it," Mr. Justice Pitney said. "I am deeper than the whole thing is," responded Mr. Rice.

"All right, then," the justice said.

State Rights Usurped.
The United States is usurping the authority of the states; New Jersey is protesting it; other states are protesting it," Rhode Island stands alone as powerful before this court as though she had every state behind her.

"I make no mention of the fact that 200,000 Americans were fighting over when this amendment was submitted by congress, the people had no part in ratifying it."

"What has that to do with the pending case?" Associate Justice Clarke asked.

"It is one of the things that have occasioned a very deep resentment," after defining "amendment" as meaning a correction of errors, Mr. Rice said.

"This is entirely without the amending power. It is not taking something out of the constitution such as an error. It is adding to it."

"Did not the fourteenth amendment add something into the constitution that was not there before?" Chief Justice White asked. "It says 'no state shall abridge the privileges of citizens of the United States.'"

"The fourteenth amendment," replied the attorney general, "does not interfere with the police powers of the state."

McKendricks Is Curious.
"You stated," Associate Justice McKendricks interposed, "that no amendment could be found which put something into the constitution that was not there before. I was interested in that. How about the first ten amendments?"

"At the time the constitution was adopted they were virtually a part of it."

"The defendants," Attorney General Rice continued, "are giving the correct meaning to the word amendment. They are accepting the present meaning under which congress sometimes amends an agriculture bill so as to affect lighthouse keepers. When the constitution was written it was not subject to such a construction."

FIGURES IN WAR ROMANCE AND TRAGEDY

Facsimile of "Death Poem" in Mrs. Randall's Handwriting Found by The Tribune. This, the Police Say, Proves That Mrs. Randall Killed Clifford Melville Bleyer and Then Herself.

*Sleep! for my hand is sure,

C. M. BLEYER AND DIVORCEE ARE FOUND SLAIN

Gun, Death Poem Tell
Tragic Story.

nue police station. The bodies, after due time, were taken to Perrygo's undertaking rooms at 2913 Cottage Grove avenue. Coroner's Physician Joseph Springer and members of the homicide squad, who had made their examination, said they believed it was a case of "love and despair, murder and suicide."

The discovery of the bodies was made through Roger Tuttle, of 6820 University avenue, and Robert O. Warner of 3646 Sherman avenue. Tuttle is secretary of the Bleyer agency, Warner, a friend of Bleyer's.

Mrs. Bleyer's anxious inquiries set them at work. They rummaged in Bleyer's desk, and came upon a checkbook which showed that every month since May 1 he had paid the rent for "Samuel Randall." The checks were made out to S. L. Stine. They went to him. He gave them the address. They went to the flat, and finding the doors locked, called Lieut. Joseph O'Connell.

Lived Double Life a Year.
Bleyer had been living a double life for more than a year. It is said by those who knew him—and he had many friends in Chicago.

He was born here. He studied in the University school, and when he was about 19 years old he was sent abroad to finish his education. He spent several years in Paris, and it was there he met the girl he married, Andre Gangerlin.

Bleyer's father was a colonel on the staff of Gov. Tanner, and when the boy was but 14 his father got him a high sounding title—first lieutenant of artillery under the governor and a uniform.

The elder Bleyer was once secretary and treasurer of the Interstate National Guard association. He was a member of the Chicago Association of Commerce and quite a club figure.

Great Pal of Father.
He and Clifford, his only son, were inseparable companions when the boy was young. Clifford had a junior membership in the Chicago Athletic association in those days, and father and son were frequently seen together, in the dining room or the gymnasium.

Bleyer Sr. does not know of his son's death. He left a week ago on a business trip to Cuba. H. W. Seaman, a member of the Union League club, sent Clifford a cable last night informing him of his son's death, but without giving details.

Mrs. Randall was the daughter of H. E. Vale, the owner of two bakeries in Oklahoma City. Mr. Vale once ran a bakery on the south side and Ruth was his clerk.

Recalls Niemann Tragedy.
The police wired Vale last night and learned that Mrs. Vale is in Chicago. She is stopping at the home of another daughter, Mrs. W. E. Niemann, 3707 Pine Grove avenue. She refused to talk about the affair.

Niemann, the husband of the dead woman's sister, is a brother of William Niemann Jr., who was found fatally wounded in a room at the Empire hotel in November of 1918. In the same room, a bullet wound in her breast, was Miss Lucille McLeod, Niemann had been engaged to marry a Miss Meta Fiedler, daughter of a wealthy importer. Miss McLeod said he had promised to marry her, had made a written agreement with her. At the trial which acquitted her she said Niemann had shot her and then himself.

Model, Athlete, Writer.
Ruth Vale became a model when she was old enough. She was a walker, and an athlete. Walking, she used to say, helped her to keep her figure. She was a student of literature too, and loved to write.

Norman Brown Randall, her husband, made about $150 a month. She wasn't content with that. She told her friends she couldn't live on it. The war gave her a chance, and she became a Red Cross worker in Chicago. It was while soliciting funds on a street corner that she met Bleyer, a nice looking chap, a highly educated man, fluent in English, Italian and French, fond of literature as she. He was an artist, too; had studied in Paris, and in Rome, and the works of his genius hung in many an art gallery in foreign lands.

She liked him, and he liked her. They made a date, and liking grew to infatuation.

Many were the dinners they had at Joe Rousseau's French restaurant in South Wabash avenue, with the jazz band going strong, and the wine flowing free—and the waiters knew them only as "Cliff" and "Ruthie," for these were the only names they voiced.

So she quit her husband and went to Bleyer, and she told her friends she loved him and that he loved her and that he had promised to divorce his wife for her.

Employed by Reserve Bank.
Bleyer's father heard of it, she said, and talked to her. She described him as "a nice old fellow," and said she was depending on both dad and son to bring her the happiness she craved.

But the war that gave her these stolen moments with Bleyer took him away from her, too. He went to Washington to aid in winning the war, and as his salary wasn't enough to support both of them, she had to go to work again. She was employed by the federal reserve bank for a time until Bleyer came back from his war work.

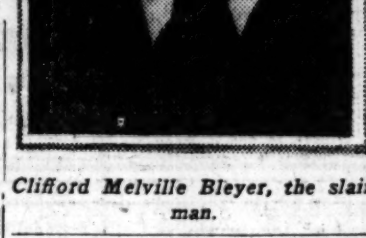

In the meantime Mrs. Bleyer had been living in Grand boulevard and then in Galt avenue, caring for the children, and writing long letters to her husband in Washington. She said last night she had never heard of Ruth Randall.

Wife Becomes Hysterical.
She became hysterical when she learned that her husband was dead, and that he had been killed by the other woman. And she didn't say much.

"I can always remember," she said, "that he was good to me and the children—that he loved the children. I can't believe this is true. It is some horrid nightmare. Clifford couldn't have done this thing—a man as good as he. Who is this woman? Where did she come from? When did he meet her? I never heard her name even before tonight."

"I wasn't much surprised when Clifford said he wouldn't be home till late Saturday night. He was frequently out late. I never could believe ill of him. We had been so happy."

"We were married in France twelve years ago and went through England on our honeymoon. Then we came here. Twelve years, and to have it end like this! Horrible!"

Clifford Melville Bleyer, the slain man.

Meantime the police were looking through the book with the Madonna cover—and through the pages of a diary Mrs. Randall had kept.

In the book were various quotations. Some of them may be original.

"We two are a multitude," Ovid.

"There is no gain except by loss. There is no life except by death. No glory but by bearing shame. Nor justice but by taking blame."

Clipped Many Poems.
In this book, too, were poems clipped from magazines and newspapers—among them one from the Line o' Type in THE TRIBUNE, entitled, "The Congregation, VII Now, Rise and Sing."

It is by one of E. L. C. contributors and starts out:

"My Tuesdays are meatless. My Wednesdays are wheelless. I'm getting more eatless each day."

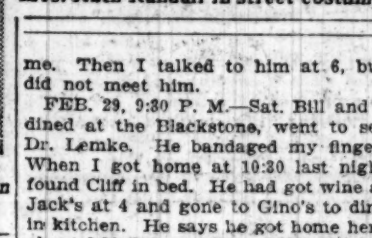

There were also a few pressed flowers—coronopsis which mean "always cheerful," and some written petals of the red tulip, which signify a declaration of love—these and an envelope on which were the words, "Birthdays flowers, Feb. 12, 1920."

According to the diary—a black leather book which she called "the account of my husband and myself each day from Dec. 1, 1911, to Sept. 13, 1916, and of Clifford Bleyer and myself"—it was on June 20, 1917, that she met Bleyer.

Some Diary Entries.
These few entries tell the story—with the line on the flyleaf: "If this be read, some reason may be found for what I have done."

FEB. 24, 10 P. M.—Opened savings account at National Republic bank, 11 yesterday. Cliff's office boy brought boxes and I put ribbon on them. Went to his office and got all of Saturday.

FEB. 24, 10 P. M.—Cliff phoned at 11:30—Kind-I began to cry at his wonderful tender voice. Said, "What's the matter, my kitten?" O God, if only I could have him close to me. I did not phone him yesterday, nor he me. Then I talked to him at 6, but did not meet him.

FEB. 29, 9:30 P. M.—Sat. Bill and I dined at the Blackstone, went to see Dr. Lemke. He bandaged my finger. When I got home at 10:30 last night found Cliff in bed. He had got wine at Jack's at 4 and gone to Gino's to dine in kitchen. He says he got home here about 8:30, left at 12:30. I had left my diary and account book in an apron and I'm still wondering what Cliff did about them. Gave Cliff tea and 3 sandwiches. He seemed pleased, but not much.

They Lunch Together.
MARCH 2, 9:15 A. M.—Lunched with my Cliff at Bovaris yesterday. Cliff took Roger and Art out North for his birthday party. How odd to take them out there too.

WED. MARCH 3.—Phoned Cliff at 6 yesterday, and he said nothing about coming to Lucca, but he did, and Bob said I'd phoned Cliff today at 5:30, but he ducked out and I've phoned him everywhere and can't locate him yet, and it's 9 P. M. I'm nearly crazy thinking him out and drunk.

"My Cliff," she calls him all through the book—and on the last day there is this entry—dated 9:40 in the morning, Saturday, March 6.

"This morning Cliff phoned, swore at me furiously about my phone at 8 a. m. and the night before. It looks like Audree raised Cain. I listened to nothing but oaths and hung up. I did not phone yesterday, nor did he."

"Broken Up About Cliff."
Some words are likable here and the diary goes on—"and I'd let him cool down, and he knew I had only $6. Tuesday now he phoned and said he wanted to send me some money."

"I'm glad I didn't phone first. I am all broken up about my Cliff. My sense of honor—O God, how ridiculous that seems for me—tells me to leave my Cliff, who belongs to another."

and there is just one more last line. "I will have strength enough tomorrow."

ULSTER DIVIDED ON HOME RULE FOR ALL IRELAND

Carson Partition of Province Fails to Go Down.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, March 8.—The government has decided that it is absolutely necessary to have a second reading discussion of the Irish home rule bill before the Easter recess, Andrew Bonar Law announced in the house of lords today. It was essential, he said, that it should be made plain that the government meant to continue with the bill, which was the most important measure of the session.

LONDON, March 8.—A surprising development in the Irish situation is the division of opinion which has arisen among Ulster Unionists over the definition of Ulster. Sir Edward Carson has advised the Ulsterist council, which met in Belfast last week, to accept the home rule bill, which provides two parliaments for Ireland, defining Ulster as six counties.

This definition of Ulster was adopted because of strong pressure by Carson, who believed that only in this way could he get his followers to accept the bill, fearing they would be alarmed at the possibility of a Nationalist majority if the whole province was included in parliamentary Ulster.

Now it appears the majority delegates in Belfast last week insisted the whole province be included, and there was even a strong section which urged one parliament for the whole of Ireland, arguing that if they accepted home rule at all they might as well go the whole hog. It is also a fact that Ulster labor men are opposed to a partition of Ireland because they see added strength in an all-Ireland labor party in an all-Ireland parliament.

The result of this development is that Ulsterist Unionists are becoming more Nationalist than the Nationalists, and it is possible they may now line up for a real home rule.

The council meets again Wednesday, at which a report will be made on a proposal to demand inclusion of the whole nine counties in the Ulster parliament.

EDITOR ON TRIAL

LONDON, March 8.—The trial of Charles Diamond, editor of the Catholic Herald, charged with inciting to the murder of Viscount French, lord lieutenant of Ireland, and others in an article in his paper, began at the Old Bailey court today. The trial is an outgrowth of the attempt to assassinate Viscount French on Dec. 19 last.

Diamond pleaded not guilty, declaring the charge "a notorious lie."

"It is a political charge made by my political enemies," he added.

Sinn Fein Raid Beaten.
LIMERICK, March 7.—One hundred men armed with rifles and high explosives made an attack lasting an hour on a police barracks at Doon, near here, early this morning. The police resisted with rifles and hand grenades and the attackers finally withdrew. None of the police was injured.

Hunt Rebel Funds in Banks.
DUBLIN, March 8.—The government has instituted an inquiry, under the crissac act of 1917, into the relations of certain Irish banks with the Sinn Fein. The object is to ascertain the amount and location of Sinn Fein funds, and especially, it is said, of recent large sums received from America.

GALE RAKED SEA PERILS A DOZEN ATLANTIC CRAFT

Several Abandoned;
Aid to Others.

New York, March 8.—Reports of marine disasters today indicated that the gale of last week which prevailed all along the North Atlantic coast added materially to the shipping losses of a winter which already had placed a heavy burden on insurance companies and owners.

Sinister reports included one that the tanker Cubadist, four days overdue from Matanzas to Baltimore, had failed to respond to wireless calls. Its owners expressed the fear that it had met with disaster.

Abandoned 180 Miles at Sea.
The schooner Eva B. Douglass, which has weathered some of the heaviest gales along the coast, had to be abandoned 180 miles east of Cape May. The steamer Gulfport was reported abandoned off Nantucket, with the coast guard cutter Acushnet attempting to tow it in.

The Lake Ellithorpe, with a broken propeller, was anchored dangerously close to a shoal near Sable Island. The Purvis line steamer Maplemore went to its rescue.

Other Ships in Distress.
Other ships reported in distress included the Norwegian tanker Henrik Lund, ashore in Halifax harbor; the Norfolk Range, at anchor near Halifax, and the Buchanan, from Messina to New York, is being towed into Bermuda.

The steamer Wisconsin Bridge, from Lingo, Finland, for New York, also is disabled several hundred miles at sea and in tow of another ship.

The Royal Mail steamer Chienotto has not arrived at Halifax. Aid has been sent the shipping board steamer Niccolai, which wireless for assistance 340 miles east of St. Johns, N. F.

LEAGUE LEAVES FRANCE OPEN TO FOE, FOCH SAYS

Too Dreamy for Protection Against Germany.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)
PARIS, March 8.—In the midst of his preparations to leave Paris, Field Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies, said:

"The league of nations? I can tell you nothing on this subject—first because I'm a soldier and the league of nations is quite beyond my province; second, because I cannot give you an opinion on something that does not exist—which is the case with the league of nations. It simply does not exist."

A Few Words—Nothing More.
"It certainly is a beautiful idea—but just an idea. At present all that exists of the league of nations is its name. There are a few words, nothing more."
"The work of organizing and creating everything still remains to be done. That is, if later on we succeed in creating anything! I don't think the league of nations will prove effective in granting peace to the world or security to France, and even if it be established it will be unable to do this, for a long time to come at any rate. I always maintain the safety of my country can be guaranteed only by tangible existing securities—as the barrier of the Rhine, for instance. I don't trust as much in idealistic theories as in facts, and now, when I see how matters stand, I think France can less than ever dispense with existing firm guarantees."

Germany, which neither is crushed nor dismembered by the war, constitutes a grave menace to the safety of France. France is facing this danger alone. In such conditions we cannot rely upon a theory which is a splendid dream of the future, but is now rejected even by those who promoted it.

Waits for Proof First.
"My essential principle in life being not to reject anything without due consideration—any theory of the idea of alliance—I don't definitely reject the idea of the league of nations. But it will only be when it has proved its efficacy that we will be able to accept its protection in place of more solid securities."

"At present I don't consider the league of nations efficacious protection for the peace of the world."

ITALY FINALLY GETS U.S. IDEA OF AID TO GERMANY

Raw Material Plan Seconded After a Year.

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright: 1920: By the Tribune Company.)
PARIS, March 8.—Premier Nitti's assertion that Germany must be allowed raw materials, if she is expected to pay reparations, is exactly what the American peace commissioners argued a year ago when the treaty of Versailles was in the making.

All five American plenipotentiaries took up the point that Germany must not continue to be blockaded and boycotted, if she was to pay the reparations demanded, but they were criticized by the French press. The English press also criticized the Americans severely for "aiding German interests."

American financial experts pointed out that Germany could not pay reparations unless she was permitted to work. It was because the allied powers, chiefly France and Great Britain, would not agree to let Germany begin to produce that no figure was set on the amount of reparations which must be paid. The French and British named fantastic sums which Germany could never pay, especially if the policy of boycotting and blockading German goods was maintained, and the Americans refused to accept these figures.

Leave Sum Unnamed.
Rather than revise the figures to a reasonable total which Germany could pay, the French and British preferred to leave the sum unnamed, to be set by a reparations commission at a future date. It is already being whispered everywhere that Germany will never pay anything.

Italy and Great Britain already are beginning to realize this; hence Nitti's suggestion that Germany must be helped with a loan and credit for raw materials even before France is aided to reconstruct the devastated areas. Both British and Italians are believed to be influenced somewhat in this decision by the failure of France to rebuild her war shattered districts quickly.

YANK IS VILLA'S PERSONAL PRIZE IN RAID ON TRAIN

Bandit Chief Talks to Survivors.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—The state department today received an official report regarding the attack on a railway train in Chihuahua by bandits, led personally by Francisco Villa, in which Joseph Williams, an American engineer, was carried off for ransom and two other Americans were among the numerous passengers robbed.

"The attack was made by a force of 150 armed men, under the personal direction of Francisco Villa," the department said in an official announcement. "The department's information is that the bandits killed a number of persons aboard the train, mainly the members of the guard who engaged the bandits; robbed the passengers generally, and set the train afire."

Williams Villa's Personal Prize?
"Williams is said to have been taken personally by Villa, who in the course of the attack made a characteristic speech threatening to take other trains and enter towns in that section of the country at will."

The state department is informed that R. W. Black, an American salesman who was aboard the train, gave to James B. Stewart, the American consul at Chihuahua, this account of the affair:

"Two explosions derailed the engine March 4 at 11 a. m. About half the guard of fifty were killed in the fight. Two train conductors were executed. A Syrian was hanged, and about five Mexican passengers, who were attempting to escape, were shot. Joseph Williams, an American, was carried off for ransom, while I and Robert J. Peltier, an American, and all other passengers were robbed and set free. The entire train was looted and then burned."

"Americans Preferred."
Discovery of a "cooperative kidnapping association," having for its purpose "the kidnapping and holding for ransom of foreigners, preferably Americans," is announced by the Mexican foreign office, according to advices today from Mexico City.

The president was out today just an hour, driving through Rock Creek park.

Payne Asks Dissolution of Hearst Ship Injunction

Washington, D. C., March 8.—Dissolution of the temporary injunction restraining the shipping board from selling twenty-nine of the former German liners taken over by the government during the war was asked in a petition filed in the district supreme court today by John Barton Payne, secretary of the interior and former chairman of the shipping board. The injunction was granted Feb. 24 on application of William Randolph Hearst, who sued as a taxpayer.

WARNS U. S. OF SINISTER FORM OF FEMINISM

Boston, Mass., March 8.—Growing weakness on the part of the men of the country is developing a sinister feminism, Cardinal O'Connell told a gathering of men at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross last night. Man, as the head of the house, he said, should assert his proper authority in the home.

"The women are becoming masculine, if you please, and the men are becoming effeminate," he said. "This is disorder."

Cardinal O'Connell questioned how a father could "look on and see his children, especially the girls, running rampant without any consideration for modesty."

The cardinal argued also against what he said was a continual clamor for more pay by workmen, and advised that they be on their guard against a spirit working underhanded for perpetual strikes with the purpose of destroying organization and industry.

HITCHCOCK PUTS KICK INTO G. O. P. CHIEFS' MEETING

Plan to Run Wood Fight Stirs Committeemen.

Frank H. Hitchcock arrived in Chicago yesterday and became without delay or friction the active field manager of Gen. Wood's presidential campaign. It was the signal for open hostilities between the rival camps that has been kept below the surface with the utmost difficulty. The thirty-one national committeemen who were in Chicago were at fighting heat before nightfall.

The direct charge was made in quarters extremely friendly to National chairman Will H. Hays that Mr. Hitchcock has the promise from men in position to speak for Gen. Wood—possibly the general himself—that in the event of the latter's nomination at the Coliseum, Mr. Hitchcock will not Mr. Hays will conduct the fall campaign.

Cause of Excitement. This report—neither corroborated nor officially denied—unquestionably is the real cause of the wild interest that burst out among the national committee members as soon as the appointment of Mr. Hitchcock to his new post became generally known.

This report was followed by the open announcement that two conspicuous national committee members had taken the open in behalf of Gov. Lowden's candidacy. The two are Col. Charles E. Warren of Michigan and Jacob Barker of Missouri. Expressions of opinion that came rather charitably from party leaders, after a day of big politics, was that the pre-convention contest has settled into a showdown between Wood and Lowden, as a direct result of the latest developments.

Senator Harding's campaign manager, Harry M. Daugherty, arrived in the afternoon. Without delay he handed out the denial that had had circulation during the afternoon that Senator Harding will go no further than to complete his contest in Ohio with Gen. Wood for the forty-eight delegates from that state.

"In to Win." Senator Harding is in the contest to the finish and will be nominated," was the statement on the Ohio senator's position.

Some complication came with the advent of former Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, who was very busy along presidential row. That Mr. Burton may become a contender in the fall primaries in Ohio for the Republican nomination for United States senator was definitely stated. Senator Harding's term is expiring, and if he is not the presidential nominee he will have to enter the subsequent senatorial primary.

Wood Will Not Withdraw. Another flying report that gained some credence but was found to be without real basis was that the advent of Mr. Hitchcock as the political architect of the Wood fortunes would be marked by the immediate withdrawal of Gen. Wood's name as a candidate in the Illinois direct preferential primaries, where he is the sole contender against Gov. Lowden.

The time limit for such withdrawal expires today, and although it was generally known that astute politicians, including Mr. Hitchcock himself, felt it to be poor politics to have precipitated

(TRIBUNE Photo.)

Scheherazade, as a story teller, had nothing on Miss Betty Neely of 4207 North Winchester avenue as a seller of tickets. She has a record of retailing 300 admissions in three hours for the Arabian Nights entertainment that the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles will give at Medinah temple on March 18, 19, and 20. Eighteen thousand Shriners are expected to attend. Oriental music, drilling, singing, and a vaudeville show will be the order of the evening.

The Wood-Lowden contest in Illinois nothing so violent in overturning the policies already adopted in the Wood camp is contemplated.

For the time being Col. William Cooper Procter and the headquarters staff that he handled the Wood campaign will be undisturbed, it is learned. Mr. Hitchcock, naturally, will become the directing head politically of the Wood campaign and will personally conduct the battle in the national convention for Gen. Wood.

Convention Tickets. The committee on arrangements for the national convention, confronted by the cold demand for 50,000 tickets to the Coliseum, which will seat only 13,000 persons, worked all day on the issue of distribution of tickets. Eventually the plan was agreed to unanimously that tickets shall be issued to the national committeemen in direct proportion to the voting strength of their states on the convention floor.

"It will be the greatest Republican convention in history," said A. T. Hert of Kentucky, chairman of the arrangements committee. "The demand for tickets as made today is astounding. The spirit of the country seems thoroughly Republican. Everybody wants to be here to witness the nomination of the next president of the United States."

Hays Presides at Conference. National Chairman Hays presided over the conference of the thirty-one national committeemen. Routine matters were disposed of, he said, and nothing happened within the conference that reflected the belligerency of the party spokesmen along presidential row and in the private rooms of the committee members.

National Treasurer Fred W. Upham was the host at his home at luncheon to all of the committeemen, as well as to the campaign chairmen for the presidential candidates.

ALDERMEN VOTE $500,000 FOR WATER TUNNEL

Delay $500,000 for New Pumping Station.

Dirt will fly this summer in the construction of the new southwest water tunnel from the lake to Western avenue under Seventy-third street.

The city council finance committee, at work on the 1920 water budget last night approved the expenditure of $500,000 to begin work as soon as practicable. The committee, however, did not approve City Engineer Combs' recommendation that $500,000 be spent this year in initial construction of the William Hale Thompson pumping station. The tunnel is to act as feeder for the station. Work on the station will probably begin in 1921.

Seeks $11,765,000. Mr. Combs asked the committee to authorize $11,765,000 to be spent from the water fund this year. Water revenues amount to $9,600,000 annually and expenses last year were $7,336,000. Mr. Combs recommended that $2,425,000 be spent for rehabilitation and $1,940,000 for new construction work.

The committee voted to bring the water fund expenditures within the revenue, however.

Among the expenditures which Mr. Combs plans for this year are: Improvements on the Central Park avenue station, $500,000. Substitution of electrical for steam power at the Chicago avenue station, $390,000.

Improvements at the Twenty-second street, Harrison street, and Fourteenth street stations, $500,000.

Seek to Protect City Jobs. The quest for revenue to prevent a big layoff of city employees went on yesterday. Ald. Cernak's subcommittee recommending the following license ordinances:

Manufacturers and dealers in musical instruments, $50 to $200 annually. Manufacturers and dealers in wagons, carriages, trucks, automobiles, and automobile bodies, $50 to $200.

Itinerant merchants—salesmen from other cities who display their wares in hotel rooms—$50 a day.

Clark Heads Interstate Commerce Commission

Washington, D. C., March 8.—Edgar E. Clark was elected chairman of the interstate commerce commission today after Commissioners Wooley and Eastman had declined the place because of opposition they had expressed to the railroad law.

The bill conferred wide powers on the commission in regard to rate making and supervision of concentration of individual into national systems.

Both Mr. Wooley and Mr. Eastman advocated a continuance of government control.

GERARD BOOSTS TRAINING IN CHICAGO TALK

Chicago Democrats heard first hand yesterday the campaign doctrines of James W. Gerard, candidate for the presidential nomination. Mr. Gerard, who was ambassador to Germany before the war, was on his way home from South Dakota, where he participated in a political debate. He spoke at the luncheon of the Iroquois club.

Mr. Gerard came out in favor of universal military training. "Until we see that the world is going to settle down," he said, "we must at least have universal military training."

The other planks in his campaign platform were: League of nations, with or without reservations. No curtailment in freedom of speech. Opposition to "government by injunction."

Freedom of Ireland and Armenia.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Democratic state committee met yesterday at state headquarters at Hotel Sherman and issued the call for the Democratic state convention, as required by the direct primary law. The convention will be held at Springfield in the hall of the House of Representatives. The chief business will be to elect eight delegates and alternates at large to the San Francisco convention.

Mrs. W. Y. Morgan, wife of former Lieut. Gov. W. Y. Morgan of Kansas, the first woman to head a delegation of men to a Kansas state convention, was at the Wood headquarters yesterday. "Sentiment in Kansas is strong for Wood," Mrs. Morgan said.

Frank Wallace has withdrawn as a candidate for Democratic ward committeeman of the Sixth ward because a three cornered affair last night when Dr. Willis O. Nance launched his campaign as candidate of the Brundage organization at a dinner given in his honor at the Chicago Beach hotel by 200 active ward workers. Dr. Nance will be opposed by Robert McLaughlin, the Thompson candidate, and Roy O. West, Deneen man.

State Senator Francis P. Brady, representative of the city hall interests in local party conferences, has been confined to his home, 2240 Calumet avenue, for more than a week with an infected foot.

SCHOOL FINANCE S. O. S. FLASHED BY MORTENSON

Warns of Fewer Rooms or Pay Cut in 1921.

Figures given out yesterday by Supt. Peter A. Mortenson show that the board of education financially is at the end of its rope. By the close of 1921 it will have reached the limit of its borrowing power. Then, unless more revenue is available, it will have to cut teachers' salaries 55 per cent or close one-third of the schools, according to estimates of school trustees.

A statement of the board's finances will be sent to all principals and teachers today by Mr. Mortenson. He will urge upon them the practice of the strictest economy.

Table Shows Deficit. In the statement will be the following figures showing the growth of the deficit:

	Budget for year.	Total deficit.
1916	$ 245,000	$ 245,000
1917	450,000	695,000
1918	2,361,920	3,056,920
1919	4,789,970	7,846,890
1920 (estimated)	2,900,000	9,746,890
1921 (estimated)	4,500,000	14,246,890

Except for additional revenue of $7,225,000 this year, granted by the last legislature, the board would have been unable to grant any increase to teachers, it is declared. The total income last year was $14,825,000. This year it will be approximately $22,051,000.

$25,000,000 Year's Need.

It is estimated that the board will spend $25,000,000 this year. Last year it spent $19,615,000. The normal increase in expense each year is about $1,200,000. The new salary schedule and other increased costs will add $4,135,000 to the bill, bringing the total estimated expenditure for 1920 to $24,750,000.

Charges Deneen-City Hall "Frameup" in Third Ward

Another new issue was injected into the Third ward Republican contest for ward committeeman last night, when Robert R. Levy, candidate of the regular organization for reelection, charged that C. Arch Williams, the Deneen candidate, is a "stalking horse" for the city hall, and that "at the last moment one of these two candidates (Williams or William A. Butler) will pass the word to the other, hoping by their combined strength to defeat the regular organization." Mr. Levy also asserted that Mr. Williams, now chief counsel for the sanitary district, will resign shortly and will be succeeded by a city hall man.

BRUNDAGE AIMS NEW ATTACK AT FAKE BONDSMEN

Acting in Weil Case, Plans
Charges of Contempt.

Attorney General Edward J. Brundage, with a corps of assistants, armed with a recently discovered method of punishing fake bondsmen, is a new entrant in the campaign to keep criminals in jail.

Twice, it appears, "Yellow Kid" Weil, while being prosecuted by the attorney general's office, was released on bonds that proved fraudulent. The last bond, signed by Nettie Harris and Henry Weil, said to be a brother of the "Yellow Kid," caused the investigation, which may accomplish a great deal in correcting the present bond situation.

Assistant Attorney General C. C. Bartlett, assigned by his chief to handle the probe, mapped out his campaign last night.

Fraud Is Contempt of Court.

"I have been watching this thing for many months," he declared. "I really believe a large percentage of the bonds scheduled that have come to my attention have elements of falsehood in them. Those elements will render the bondsmen or any one who offered them knowing they were false liable to contempt of court, with option of imprisonment or other punishment, as the court decides. It is along those lines that I am proceeding."

"It is a different procedure than we have hitherto employed. It does away with grand juries, with indictments, with a possibility of jury tampering, and leaves the matter directly in the hands of the judge."

"In the Weil case, for instance, the defendants came into open court and made false affidavits regarding these bonds and thus misled the judge. Our contention is that any one who attempts to mislead the court and cause a miscarriage of justice is within the law for contempt."

Violators Face Prison.

In pursuance of this belief we have filed our information, together with interrogatories, asking the defendants concerning the value of the properties and other statements included in their schedules. If they can in their reply satisfy the court regarding these things they cannot of course be punished.

"The attorney general's office has a number of other cases under investigation. We believe a large percentage of these cases can be handled in the same manner."

True Bill Against Raphael, Report.

In the meantime, a second phase in State's Attorney Hoyne's investigation appeared when true bills were said to have been voted yesterday against Joseph Raphael, professional bondman, 328 East Forty-third street. Investigation which has been under way for some months has disclosed a number of interesting facts regarding Raphael's activities, according to Assistant State's Attorney John Prindiville.

On the Criminal court blacklist, Raphael is listed as having nine Criminal court forfeitures against him for a total of $30,500. Simultaneously it was found he is now on eighteen bonds in pending cases totaling $67,000.

PICK MINISTER FOR NEW HEAD OF UNION LEAGUE

The Rev. John Timothy Stone, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, was nominated yesterday for president of the Union League club. Dr. Stone will be the first minister to hold that office.

Members of the nominating committee, headed by John Benham, said Dr. Stone's clerical position was not considered in placing his name at the head of the ticket, but he was selected because of his ability as an organizer and his sound business judgment.

Other candidates named on the regular ticket are George T. Buckingham, first vice president; David Goodwillie, second vice president; Clifford Arrick, treasurer; C. M. Trowbridge, secretary; and Britten I. Budd, Paul Wilson, and G. H. P. Deane, directors to serve for three years. Indications are that the regular ticket will be unopposed. The election will be held March 23.

signed a $5,000 bond for the release of Samuel J. Green, 1321 Lawrence avenue, charged with the embezzlement of $5,700 from the Samoline corporation on Nov. 11. Green holds a receipt for $500 alleged to have been paid to Raphael for his services as signatory.

Doesn't Own Property, Claim.

It was discovered, according to Prosecutor Prindiville, that the property scheduled by Raphael was not owned by him. In the sworn bond schedule, Raphael gives his business as a cigar man. He declares he purchased the property in question in 1918 for $5,000. The present valuation, he says, is $12,500.

Attorney John Andelman, representing Green, yesterday surrendered him in court, pending the securing of another bond. The indictments against Raphael, it is said, will be based on charges of perjury and operating a confidence game. The Raphael property in question is said to be scheduled now on at least six bonds.

Harry E. Ellsworth also is said to have scheduled property he did not own. Judge Frank H. Graham appeared yesterday as the chief witness against him.

Violators Face Prison.

In pursuance of this belief we have filed our information, together with interrogatories, asking the defendants concerning the value of the properties and other statements included in their schedules. If they can in their reply satisfy the court regarding these things they cannot of course be punished.

HOYNE BRANDS NOCKELS AS A LABOR PARASITE

Replies to Attack of Union Chiefs.

State's Attorney Hoyne said a few things about Edward N. Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, yesterday. He called Nockels a "four-flusher" and other uncomplimentary names.

Mr. Hoyne's statement was a reply to the attack made on him by the labor leader in regard to his policy and activities concerning suspected Reds in Cook county.

And when he got through he added that what he said about Nockels might also be applied to John Fitzpatrick, head of the federation.

Hoyne's Statement.

This is the statement: "I have read the statement attributed to Mr. Nockels and this statement is characteristic of this four-flusher, Nockels."

"I have watched the activities of this parasite for the last fifteen or twenty years. The only things that have interested him in the labor movement were sticking on the payroll, drawing a fat salary, and a faster expense account at the expense of the honest laboring men. To bolster himself up in the labor movement he would advocate anything or attack anybody."

"His attack on me is not sincere nor truthful. It was only a few months ago that Nockels called upon me and urged me to send police from my office and seize all correspondence and documents of a detective agency for the purpose of aiding him in justifying his suspicions against the agency."

Once High in Praise.

"At that time he furnished me with no grounds for the proposed action. Some two weeks later, when I believed the detective agency unquestionably guilty of a gross violation of the law, I served subpoenas duces tecum, and conducted an investigation which resulted in the indictment of some of the employees of the agency."

"At that time Nockels was high in his praise, only to turn on me when I directed an investigation against some of his pets in the labor movement."

"To point out the inconsistency of Nockels' attack in the press I quote from a letter received under his signature on Nov. 12 last:

"Personally, my feelings toward you, Mr. Hoyne, I believe are as friendly and fair and square as any man in the labor movement in Chicago. As far as you yourself are concerned, I think you are the fairest and squarest in the state's attorney's office."

"Mind you, only a week before Nockels accused me of 'playing both ends to the middle.'"

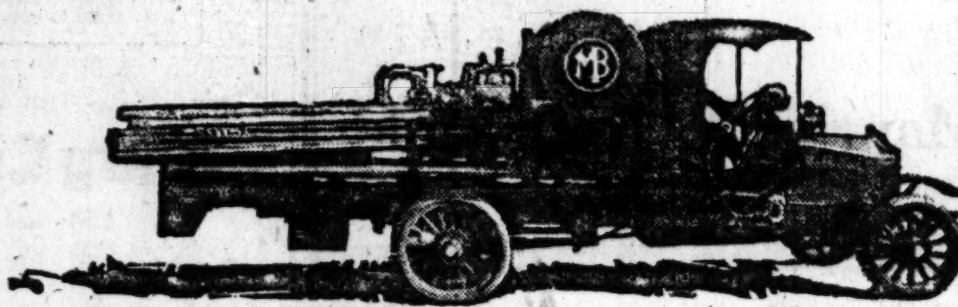

"Neither Nockels nor any one else can intimidate or swerve me from what I believe to be my duty."

Pierce-Arrow trucks are still running after 8 years. If they were not economical to operate they would have been discarded and replaced, without waiting for them to wear out.

Remember a truck is a piece of machinery. You buy machinery to last years. Truck operation is subject to the same economic laws.

No. 29 is owned by the Merkel Brothers Company of Cincinnati. For 8 years it hauled heavy plumbing supplies from freight stations to warehouse and delivered goods throughout the city. On this short haul work with heavy loads, it has covered less than 50,000 miles and is good for many more years.

Recently it was converted into a tractor to haul a trailer, doubling its capacity. It hauls its double load as unflinchingly as it carried its original 5-ton.

SEE COLLAPSE OF EXPRESS STRIKE NEAR AT HAND

Brotherhood Head Says I. W. W. Is Concerned.

A charge that I. W. W. sympathizers among the express handlers are behind the insurgent strike which is partly trying up Chicago express terminals was made last night at a conference of international officials of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

L. A. Abbott, grand vice president of the brotherhood, who is here to reorganize the local union in the face of the unauthorized strike called by R. E. Shepherd, general chairman of the Chicago district, made the statement.

It was prophesied by the superintendent of terminals for the railway express company that the strike would break down within a day or so.

Unique Situation in Chicago.
"We have a unique situation in Chicago," Mr. Abbott said, "where a union leader, Chairman Shepherd, called an illegal strike, knowing that the nation-wide organization favors obeying the law."

"His action is not only a violation of every principle of union labor, but it resulted in throwing hundreds of men and women out of work and left them walking the streets penniless because they were afraid not to strike in the face of his order."

"Shepherd had been in Washington with the leaders of fourteen big brotherhoods and he was fully apprised of the serious situation which a strike might develop when he came back to Chicago and advocated a walkout."

Says I. W. W. Is Involved.
"Allied with the move are a number of I. W. W.'s that I know of and a following of radicals of the bolshevik type."

"We are not taking the position of strikebreakers, but we do intend to organize a bona fide union, under leadership of men who will act in the best interests of union labor, and the men will go back to their work with the assurance that when our case reaches the arbitration commission we will be one of the first to get the much needed increase in salary."

Say Men Are Returning.
Vice President Abbott and G. C. Milam, member of the executive board, opened offices at 150 West Washington street, during the day to take in members of the union, who were loyal to the brotherhood.

"We have had seventy-five applicants for their old positions and are making preparations for several hundred tomorrow," said Milam, yesterday. "About 35 per cent of the 2,500 membership stayed on the job."

Shepherd, in the offices of his new union, said that only five express handlers had returned to work during the day. He accused the brotherhood of strike breaking.

Clash Over an Agreement.
He exhibited a copy of an agreement which he declared George McGrath and Ben F. Tansey for the drivers had signed, under which the latter were to stay out until the strike was won. McGrath repudiates the pact.

J. E. O'Neill, superintendent of terminals for the American Railway Express company, declared that the strike would be broken within twenty-four hours when the membership of the union learns the conditions under which it was called. He said that operations were continuing on the loading platforms under difficulties.

CHIEFS OF RAIL UNION VOTE ON STRIKE TODAY

A strike vote, affecting nearly 400,000 maintenance of way railroad employees, will be taken this afternoon.

After an all day session in the Masonic Temple drill hall, regional and grand lodge heads of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers decided to put off the test until today.

Sentiment favoring a strike, which would seek to tie up the railroads of the United States, ran high during the session and brotherhood leaders who favored awaiting action by President Wilson's wage board used their influence to postpone the vote.

The delegates were split on the report of the Washington committee which has been conducting negotiations with President Wilson and the railroad administration.

According to J. J. Farnam, vice president of the brotherhood, the division was so even that it was not apparent which way a strike vote would result.

The Esch-Cummins bill, which went into effect March 1, providing for arbitration of disputes between employees and the roads, was the storm center, with many delegates proposing acquiescence and as many others advocating a walkout to enforce the demands, which caused a favorable strike vote to be taken for Feb. 17, last. This tieup was averted by a request from President Wilson.

Carlson, born of a fine old forer, cut by William Carlson over three centuries ago, is the Smith family of the type tribes; found in hundreds of branches, doing most jobs well, shouting sales and publishing proclamations. CARRY is plain, homely, a little academic, but suited to educational uses; the Bold members of the family have force and are good looking in a heavy way. ALDEN and PRISCILLA are a distinguished pair, quaint as Quakers but clear and convincing. KENNEDY, fathered by Frederick Good, comes from a fine old Roman line, and merits association with the best. There are Antiques and Ruggeds for solidify, and a rough and bold oddity called "Hobo"—and so on.

WILLISTON FISH TAKES HELM AS CAR LINES BOSS

Plans Week's Survey to Better Service.

Williston Fish came to Chicago yesterday and began work on a huge task—improvement of the street car service. He is the new general manager of the Chicago Surface Lines.

If you see a white haired, red faced, squarely built man with a forceful chin, a short cropped mustache, and an aggressive manner riding on the front platform with the motorman, the chances are he is Mr. Fish. The new general manager will spend this week going over the lines and properties of the company in search of chances to better the service.

More Cars Big Need.
After half an hour's conference with President Blair, Mr. Fish said:

"I have been on the job only a few hours and suggestions for betterments must await an inspection of the lines, barns, equipment, and properties. The chief need seems to be for more cars. We need several hundred. In the absence of immediate capital to purchase new cars, I intend to make a survey of the service to find whether the cars in use are distributed properly."

Prior Back 5 Cent Fares.

J. H. Prior, who wishes Mayor Thompson's traction commission to employ him as an engineer at $1,250 a month, informed the commission yesterday of his reasons for believing in the feasibility of the mayor's 5 cent fare plan.

Mr. Prior argues that under the present management fares on surface and "L" lines would have to average 7 cents to insure first class service. Under the mayor's plan of "people's ownership" this figure would drop to 4.5 cents, giving ample leeway for a 5 cent fare, he says.

Scientific management, longer trains, increased efficiency of labor accompanying recovery from war times, and expected lower material costs will tend to lower operating costs, Mr. Prior asserts.

Lines' Earnings Jump.

Gross earnings of the surface lines for January amounted to $2,770,012, according to the company's statement as filed with the public utilities commission yesterday. Last year the same month the gross earnings were $2,992,267 and the year before $2,556,905. Net residue receipts for January, 1920, amounted to $187,595.

The company paid out $1,957,224 in "operating wages," an increase over last year of $528,289.

FORTUNES LOST BY ERROR IN TIP ON COURT ACTION

No Income Tax on Stock
Dividends, Decision.

of the erroneous report and then rising briskly to 301, a net gain of 43 1/4 points. Crucible-Steel gained thirty points after having shown an actual loss of ten points. Many other industrial shares closed five to ten points over last week's final prices.

William H. Hurst, treasurer of the New York News bureau, said tonight: "I understand the mistake was due to a misunderstanding by our representatives and by other representatives who sat in the courtroom and heard the decision read."

"It is surprising that mistakes of this kind do not happen more often, because of the manner in which the Supreme court decisions are rendered. No copies are furnished. They are read in the courtroom, generally in a low or mumbling tone. It is necessary to strain your ears to catch the words, and under the circumstances mistakes in interpreting the meanings are not surprising."

Inquiry Is Promised.

"Of course, since this occurs in the Supreme Court of the United States, there is no one to complain to, and no way to bring about an improvement so far as I know. I have heard that a committee of stock brokers is going to investigate the occurrence. I wish they would. Such an investigation might result in a better method of getting the Supreme court decisions before the public."

One of the governors of the stock exchange declared tonight that there would be an investigation of the circulation of the false story, and action will be taken if possible to prevent a recurrence of such an incident.

TWO MOMENTOUS DECISIONS

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—The United States Supreme court today handed down two decisions which are of far reaching effect on the business world.

One decision was that corporation dividends distributed in the form of stock do not constitute "income," and consequently are not subject to federal income taxes. This decision declared unconstitutional provisions of the 1916 federal income tax law levying taxes on stock dividends and nullified similar provisions of the present law. It will involve great loss in revenues to the government in future collections and also refunds of such taxes already collected.

As a result of this decision numerous stock dividends of big proportions may be expected soon from corporations, which have been piling up undistributed earnings.

Change in Rail Valuation.

The other decision by the Supreme court declared erroneous the refusal of the interstate commerce commission to carry out that part of the valuation section of the act to regulate commerce, which provides that in arriving at valuations on railroad property the commission shall consider and include therein the "present cost of condemnation and damages or of purchase in excess of such original cost or present value."

This decision was given in the case of the Kansas City Southern railway company against the commission. Lower courts, which had sustained the position of the commission were reversed with instructions to issue a writ of mandamus prayed for by the Kansas City Southern.

As a result of this decision the commission, in fixing valuation of terminals and right of way of railroads must hear testimony regarding the cost of condemning or buying land in excess of the present value of such land as estimated by the commission.

Issue of Tax Decision.

The decision in regard to stock dividends was made by a five to four division of the Supreme bench.

In the majority decision read by Justice Pitney, Chief Justice White and Justices McKenna, Van Devanter, and McReynolds concurred. Of the four dissenting members of the court Justice Holmes read a brief opinion in which he was joined by Justice Day, and Justice Brandeis delivered a lengthy opinion in which Justice Clarke concurred.

The attempt of congress in the income tax law to tax stock distributions, the majority decided to be unconstitutional and not permitted by the sixteenth, or income tax amendment to the federal constitution.

Stock dividends, the majority held, may be taxed only after stockholders realize upon them by sale, in which case the government may levy income taxes on such profits.

View of Justice Pitney.

Justice Pitney, in his majority opinion, said a stock dividend "is in essence not a dividend but rather the opposite."

"No part of the assets of the company is separated from the common fund," he said; "nothing is distributed except paper certificates that evidence an antecedent increase in the value of the stockholders' capital interest resulting from an accumulation of profits by the company, but profits so far absorbed in the business as to render it impracticable to separate them for withdrawal and distribution."

"Far from being a realization of profits of the stockholders, it tends rather to postpone such realization in that the fund represented by the new stock has been transferred from surplus to capital and no longer is available for actual distribution."

"The essential and controlling fact is that the stockholder has received nothing out of the company's assets for his separate use and benefit; on the contrary, every dollar of his original investment, together with whatever accretions and accumulations have resulted from employment of his money and that of the other stockholders in the business of the company, still remains the property of the company and subject to business risks which may result in wiping out the entire investment."

BIG MELONS TO RIPEN

An era of "melon cutting" is expected to result from the Supreme court decision declaring stock dividends non-taxable as income. A number of large industrial corporations that have piled up big surplus accounts have considered stock dividends if the decision should be favorable. Among the corporations are several Chicago concerns. Sears, Roebuck & Co., the common stock of which advanced in New York from 218 to 252 between sales, is prepared to issue a stock dividend of 25 per cent or greater if desired, and since a distribution of such character is not taxable no doubt is entertained that a new issue of stock will be made. The company has a capital stock of $75,000,000 and surplus of $33,500,000.

Inland Steel May Act.

The Inland Steel company also may declare a large stock dividend, having surplus of $17,000,000, compared with capital of $28,000,000.

Swift & Co. is capitalized at $150,000,000 and has surplus of over $38,000,000.

John R. Thompson & Co. plan to issue a stock dividend of 23 1/3 per cent.

MAIL POLICEMAN WHO SAVED 2 IN BLAST AS HERO

Climbed 340 Feet from Pit with Injured.

Recommendation that Policeman John Rumbula be especially honored and rewarded for his heroic work in saving the lives of two men who were at the bottom of the Chicago Union Works quarry at Lincoln and Nineteenth streets yesterday morning, when an explosion of dynamite shook the city, has been made to Chief Gallery by Capt. Patrick Gallagher.

Rumbula, who was at Twenty-first and Robey streets when the blast occurred, rushed to the scene and descended 340 feet into the pit, then carried Pasquale Gangro, badly bruised and half unconscious, and Peter Christensen up a winding stairway to safety.

Gangro, who lives at 3008 South Wood street, and Christensen, whose home is at 815 North Morgan street, were taken to the county hospital.

Seven Others Hurt.

Others who were injured are:

KURECKA, JOHN, 1845 West Twenty-second street; cut by glass while in line.

NIEROSKI, BERTHA, 6 months old, 2012 West Nineteenth street; killed by brick blown into her cradle.

CECH, BRIDGET, 4 years old, 1908 West Nineteenth street; cut by falling glass.

FRANCIS, NARY, 5 years old, 2000 West Nineteenth street; cut by glass.

ELIERT, WLADISLAW, 65 years old, 1910 West Eighteenth street; cut by glass.

PAROWSKI, STELLA, 24 years old, 1908 West Eighteenth street; bruised by falling plaster.

RAWS, ANTON, 43 years old, 2643 Belmont avenue; left leg, knee, and hip injured when he was thrown against the wall of the quarry by the force of the explosion.

Blast Rocks Huge Section.

Houses for miles around the quarry were rocked when the dynamite exploded. Hundreds of windows were smashed and families for blocks around rushed into the streets in panic, believing an earthquake had occurred.

Investigation of the cause of the explosion is being conducted by Capt. Gallagher and officials of the company. Peter Gustan, the quarry dynamite expert, admitted placing a stick of dynamite near a stove in a shack to thaw it out.

UNWED, FREED OF CHILD'S DEATH, SHIELDS FATHER

Washington, D. C., March 8.—(Special.)—Arrested but exonerated today by a coroner's jury for the death of her baby, Miss Grace Crews, an American Red Cross nurse in France and assistant superintendent of a children's hospital here, steadfastly refused to disclose the identity of the baby's father, who is a Chicago physician.

Miss Crews' baby was born a month ago, but died immediately afterward. She placed it in a trunk, where the body was discovered by a physician who was called to attend the mother. Testimony today convinced the jury that the baby died of natural causes. "I intend to shield the name of the baby's father," Miss Crews declared. "Why should I blast his future career? It would do me no good to expose him."

At the time she met the Chicago physician, Miss Crews did not know he was married. This was not disclosed to her until she was about to become a mother.

DEATH STARTS INQUIRY.

Thomas Miller, 34 years old, 3031 Lyndale avenue, died last night at the Norwegian-American hospital in circumstances that are being investigated by the coroner's office. He was found by a neighbor at a table in a room at a hotel, and became ill immediately afterward while in a theater.

SOMEBODY in England probably started the idea of these high, square shoulders on the coat. Being English doesn't make them any better; but the style is very effective on most men; gives a slender-waist effect. A Spring Selling Event of Immediate Interest Women's and Misses' Coats Specially Priced

New modes, all of them. Chosen from the springtime assortments that have been arriving here each day. Each group represents some accepted spring style in its most attractive version. Each coat is a value out-of-the-usual in view of pricing and of style. Every woman and young girl who has in the planning a spring coat would, we believe, profit greatly by anticipating her selection in point of time and choose from these assortments. Here are—

Women's Covert Cloth Coats, $75—Coats of Tricotine, $105

Misses' Coats of Peach-bloom, $65—Coats of Polo Cloth, $75

New Capes for Misses of Chatoyant, Charming Fashioned, $110

These are the coats in the featured groups. The fabrics in each are those promised great vogue. The workmanship is of that fine type that gives best expression to the new lines and which proves itself in the wear. Too much emphasis cannot be placed, we believe, on the character and quality of these coats as well as upon the style distinctiveness. Brief descriptions of these coats follow—

Women's Covert Cloth Coats at $75.

One style has a tooled leather belt and unusual pockets. The other is the smartest of top-coats, simple, almost severe, in line.

Misses' Coats at $65 and $75.

The coat at $65 is of Peach-bloom and has a jaunty scarf collar. The Polo cloth coat has slim leather wrist straps and a leather belt, $75.

This is, we believe, the first selling of such a remarkable nature noted this season. It is especially planned at this time so that women and young women may have opportunity of choosing the new coats for spring early and have the satisfaction of long service. All sizes are included in each style.

DEFENSE OFFERS 'INSIDE DOPE' ON NEWBERRY RACE

Piles of Letters Read to Court and Jury.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 8.—The defense in the Newberry election conspiracy trial today introduced into evidence scores of letters and telegrams supplementing communications which the government put in the record in the earlier stages of the trial. For more than two hours Frank C. Dalley, assistant attorney general, passed without objection missives exchanged by wire and mail between Truman H. Newberry and his campaign manager, Paul King.

King explained obscure references in the letters when they were read by James O. Murfin and Martin W. Littleton of counsel for the defense. Newberry wrote King at various times he was in favor of woman suffrage and prohibition, and that he had renewed the subscriptions of $5,000 each for myself and brother which I made last year to the Anti-Saloon league.

There was also a deal of correspondence on the chances of other candidates getting into the race, and in one letter King wrote that Senator William Alden Smith and Thomas J. O'Brien, former ambassador to Japan, had been urging Gertrude Dickema, a congressman from Holland, Mich., to enter the primary. He added:

"Dickema told them he did not have the price." The northern peninsula situation caused some furious discussion between the candidate and campaign manager. The question of Roger M. Andrews of

CHICAGO CLERGY, GOING TO ADVISE, MAY GET ADVICE

Will Be Grilled a Bit at Springfield.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Springfield, Ill., March 8.—(Special.)—President Woodward of the constitutional convention was advised today by representatives of the Chicago Church federation to appear before the committee on education and the bill of rights to make a statement of the Bible in the public schools compulsory.

Some of the delegates desire to give certain preachers an oral spanking before they leave Springfield, and it is planned to ask tomorrow's delegation to appear before the legislative committee, that the members may be questioned.

Strike Tender Spot.
In addition to attempting to require Bible reading in the public schools, the Chicago Church federation has initiated one of the most acute political questions of the convention—the limiting of Chicago's representation in the general assembly. It has sent a pamphlet to each delegate intimating that it will fight the new constitution if Chicago's representation is not limited.

Under the heading "Method for National" the pamphlet speaks of "undesirables in the legislature" as follows:
"From these (Chicago) districts come very largely the radical and dangerous element. It is a constant peril to good government."

It further says "the new constitution would seem to be imperiled" unless there is a limitation of Chicago's representation in both houses. Then, the preachers think, Chicago will be ruled for home rule.
If the Chicago Church federation ever had a chance of getting compulsory Bible reading in the schools, it has greatly injured its cause. "I would like to get a chance to cross-examine some of those preachers from Chicago," said Charles Michel, delegate from Chicago. "Chicago will be permitted to pay two-thirds of the taxes of the state and yet be limited to one-third of the general assembly, regardless of what Chicago's population may become."

See "Dry" Politics Back of It.
Some delegates do not believe the regular of the Chicago Church federation tells its real reason for wanting to limit representation. To that extent these delegates think that the pamphlet is a half truth. The guess of these delegates is that the preachers want Chicago's representatives limited because of the liquor question. Prominent dries have urged that program.
On Wednesday school teachers are scheduled to appear before the convention on school revenue.

WANTS SUMMER TRAINING CAMP AT GREAT LAKES

Daniels Seeks Boys in Naval Reserve.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., March 8.—(Special.)—Establishment of a summer training camp at the Great Lakes Naval Training station such as has been proposed by Mississippi Valley association was approved by Secretary Daniels today before the house committee on naval affairs. He referred to the training camp in urging the development of a naval reserve force. He said boys taking the summer course should be enrolled in the reserve force so that the navy department will have a hold upon them in case of emergency.

Secretary Daniels proposed summer training camps also at Hampton Roads, Va.; Newport, R. I.; and at some point on the Pacific coast, all of them to be open to boys between 16 and 20.

Only Way to Get Men Enough.
"We can never in time of peace expect to man all the ships of the navy," said Secretary Daniels. "Even if Congress authorized the necessary number it is doubtful if they could be enlisted. We must therefore depend upon a large and efficient reserve to be mobilized the instant an emergency arises."

"Such training will be along the lines of the army summer schools and this national naval experience can be economically obtained. It would utilize some of the spare time of the young men, which would prove of great benefit to them, to the navy, and to the republic."

Other Recommendations.
Secretary Daniels discussed the inadequacy of naval bases on the Pacific coast and recommended the use of Pearl harbor as a supply base for the vessels of the fleet. Development of Guam for use as a fueling and repair station for vessels bound to the Philippines, development of a navy yard on San Francisco bay to permit the docking and repair of the capital ships now under construction, enlargement of the navy yard at Bremerton, development of a base at San Diego, continuance and development of the submarine base at San Pedro, and the location of a submarine and destroyer base at Port Angeles, Washington, and another on the Columbia river.

Ottumwa Shows Increase in Population to 23,003

Washington, D. C., March 8.—Population statistics for 1920 announced today by the census bureau included: Ottumwa, Ia., 23,003, an increase of 931, or 4.5 per cent over 1910.
Lewiston, Me., 21,707, an increase of 6,460, or 29.8 per cent.
Everett, Wash., 27,614, an increase of 2,800, or 11.3 per cent.

SOLONS ALIBI FOR REFUSING TO O. K. UNIVERSAL DRILL

Washington, D. C., March 8.—(Special.)—Universal military training was touched on incidentally in the house today during the discussion of the army reorganization bill. Members of the committee offered explanations as to why the proposition was not included in the pending measure.

Representative Olney, Massachusetts, Democrat, declared that universal training school have been included in the bill. He said that in such event the size of the standing army could have been reduced considerably below $60,000.

Representative Cragg, Pennsylvania, Republican, another member of the committee, also expressed his approval of universal training.

Representative Quinn, Mississippi, Democrat, made one of the chief attacks against universal training. He declared that the country is opposed to universal training, and also to a large army. He said there was no need of training at the present time.

The house began consideration of the army reorganization bill under a rule providing for ten hours of general debate. Several days will be required for passage of the measure.

KILLER OF CHILD TO DIE, ADMITS 2 MORE MURDERS

Eddyville, Ky., March 8.—(Special.)—Will Lockett, sentenced to die March 11 in the electric chair for the killing of 10-year-old Geneva Hardman, confessed today that he had committed two other murders and attempted a third. A mob's efforts to seize him Feb. 9 at Lexington, Ky., resulted in the killing of troops and a fight with the rioters.

Saying today his real name was Petrie Kimbrough, he added he was reared near Pembroke, Christian county, Ky. He declared he attacked and killed a woman near Carmi, Ill., either in 1915 or 1916; he could not be certain, and another near Camp Eschary, Taylor, Ky., when he was in the army in February, 1915.

JACKSON PULLS SLASHING ATTACK TO BEAT DUNDEE

Wins 6 of 8 Rounds in Jersey City Bout.

Tribune Decisions

Decisions of Tribune fight representatives are:

At Jersey City—Willie Jackson beat Johnny Dundee [12].
At Boston—Battling Tom Murphy beat Barney Snyder [12].
At Philadelphia—Henry Valger beat Jimmy Murphy [12].
At Detroit—Tommy Murray beat Redcap Wilson [10].
At Milwaukee—Finky Mitchell beat Barney Adair [10].
At Buffalo—Frankie Schell beat Mel Coogan [12].

Jersey City, N. J., March 8.—[Special.]—Cutting loose one of the most vicious attacks seen by a light weight in many pugilistic bouts, Willie Jackson succeeded in outpointing Johnny Dundee in their eight round bout at the Arena here tonight.

Although he failed to score a single knockdown and at no time during the fight was Dundee in danger of being knocked to sleep for the full point of ten seconds, Jackson's victory was a decisive one, and he established himself as one of the leading contenders for the crown worn so jauntily by Benny Leonard.

Jackman Wins Six of Rounds. Jackson had the better of six of the eight rounds. The fourth went to Dundee by a fair margin and the eighth was even. All the rest belonged to the Harlem lightweight. His speed seemed to dazzle Dundee, and the little Italian sought cover behind his padded gloves.

The first, second, and third rounds were Jackson's. Then it was that Dundee, realizing that he was being outpointed, sailed in with his arms swinging like flails and his legs doing the jazziest of any jazz dance that has been staged on Broadway since prohibition began doing its spiteful hop and its skittering waltz.

Jackman in New Spurt. During the three minutes that followed Jackson was literally covered with gloves, and they were not his own. But he weathered the storm and came back in the fifth, sixth, and seventh and played a tattoo on Dundee's face, head, and ribs that would have done Old Man Drummer himself a world of credit.

G. CARPENTIER NOW BENEDICK; WEDS IN PARIS

PARIS, March 8.—Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion of Europe, was married to Germaine Laurencia Illiasse at the city hall today. The religious ceremony will be celebrated at a Paris church tomorrow. The civil marriage occurred some hours before the time originally set in order to avoid the crowds.

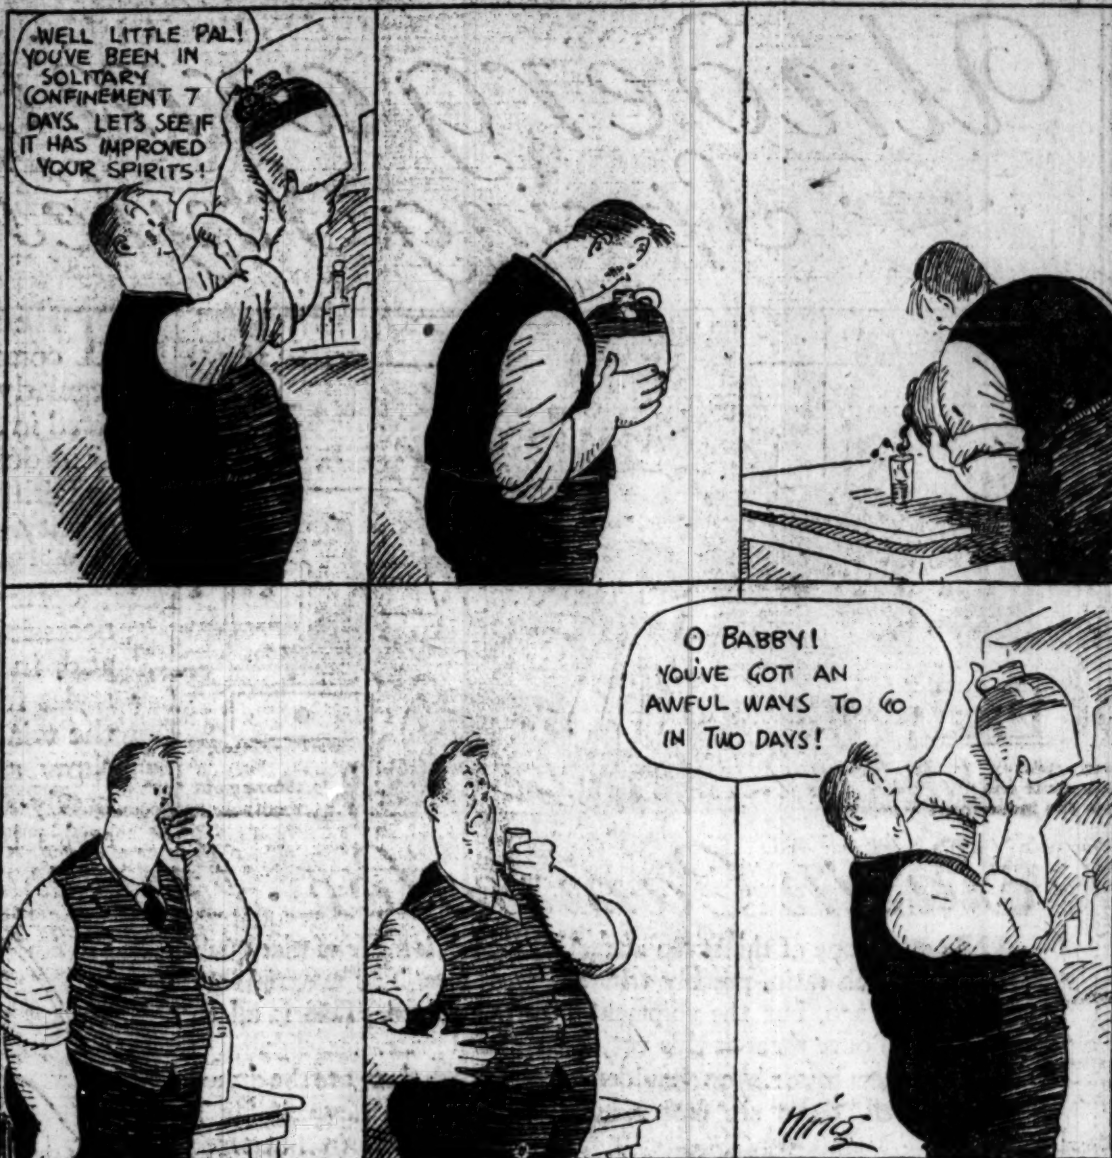

PINKIE MITCHELL WALLOPS ADAIR

Milwaukee, Wis., March 8.—Pinkie Mitchell, local lightweight, tonight easily outboxed Barney Adair of New York in ten rounds. Mitchell had the advantage in a majority of the rounds. The most exciting session was the seventh, when Mitchell with stiff right and left short jabs, to the jaw staggered the Irish lad.

BOW HAYS MAY KICK BOUT

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 8.—The Johnny Ray-Johnny Kirk bout broke up in a general argument between managers and seconds following the second round at Exposition hall tonight.

GASOLINE ALLEY—SERVING A 9 DAYS' SENTENCE.

Pugilistic Pointers

ONE of those double windup scrapfests, which draw well from Chicago, is billed for August tonight. Bud Charles of Kenosha and Freddie Knick of Aurora, a couple of 120 pounders, will furnish one-half of it, while the performers in the other half will be Marty Henderson of Joliet and Tony Capone of Rock Island, bantamweights. A couple of prelims will help out the evening's entertainment furnished by Ed Purdy.

Chicago fans who have been waiting impatiently for news of Johnny Coulton's bout with Charley Ledoux, champion of France, may now rest quietly until March 15. Word was received from Paris yesterday that the bout has been postponed until the aforementioned date. Originally it was set for March 3.

Big Jack Heinen has lined up with Tommy Walsh and, according to the dope, Heinen's first start under the new management will be against Fred Fulton in an eastern city.

BRITISH MEDAL FOR YANKEE 'PRO' GOLF CHAMPION

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—A British prize medal, to be competed for at the Professional Golfers' association championship tournament in this country, is the latest phase of the good feeling in golf which cemented England to the United States. Alex Pirie, secretary of the United States association, today received a letter from England with the information that a trophy is being made in commemoration of the help the pro golfers of this side gave to the English pros during the war. Under the conditions it will become the permanent property either of the player winning it twice in succession or the one who wins it for the third time.

SCHOOL WINNER IN FIFTH. Buffalo, N. Y., March 8.—Frankie Schell of Buffalo won from Mel Coogan of Brooklyn in the fifth round tonight. The first round was even, and in the second Schell dropped Coogan for the count of nine. From then on Schell had it all his own way, and in the fifth round the referee stopped the battle.

SHOTS ON THE LINKS

IN view of the coming conference between representatives of the United States Golf association and the St. Andrews Golf club to discuss changes in the rules, the Professional Golfers' Association of America will make a canvas of its members for their opinions. It generally is understood that the styles and proposed standardization of the golf ball will be discussed and President J. B. Mackie has asked the midwestern section of the P. G. A. to appoint a committee to go over the rules and submit suggestions.

Chicago golfers made a good showing in the first round for the Riviera Hotel trophy at Blois. Miss E. Edman of Beverly defeated Mrs. W. H. Singer, Olympia Field; Mrs. J. P. Fulton, Olympia, defeated Mrs. D. L. McLeod, Grand Rapids, 2 and 1; Mrs. A. J. Tassell, Olympia, defeated Miss A. Smith, Duluth, 2 and 1; Mrs. J. E. McKee, Beverly, defeated Mrs. A. E. Winter, Mrs. J. P. Gardner, Olympia, defeated Mrs. Colquhoun, Winnipeg, 1 up; Miss D. Fisk, Eau Claire, defeated Mrs. J. C. Dunsmuir, Ridgemoor, 3 and 2.

Tom Bendelow left last night for West Baden Springs to look over the course and plan for the open tournament to be staged there next month. The prize list will total $1,000.

MUNICIPAL GOLF LEADERS ACTIVE; SOON PICK SITE

Two Committees Named to Work Out Plans.

Officials of the New Cook County Municipal Golf association teed off for their round of 1920 activities at a luncheon at the Traffic club, Hotel La Salle, yesterday.

Two important committees—site and membership—were appointed, the former consisting of seventeen members and the latter of nine. President Robert W. McKinlay named the site committee as follows: Judge Joseph Sabath, chairman; M. W. Moreau, T. J. Monahan, George Mason, Peter N. Jans, N. B. Fagan, Tom Bendelow, J. McNeiven, A. T. Packard, Charles Evans Jr., J. G. Davis, John Crosby, R. W. Teister, Fred Proctor, E. Wallace and B. F. Pilgrim.

Course on Forest Preserve. Members of this committee will inspect portions of the forest preserve on the west side Saturday, as that section of the city is most in need of more courses.

J. B. Gray was named as chairman of the membership committee which includes John Samuels, T. J. Leonard, W. F. Baker, George Jenney, K. C. McKewen, James Gibson, Fred L. Fiske and W. S. Powers.

Campaign for Members. A strong campaign for members from the public parks clubs will be made and President Charles L. West of the Chicago District Golf association promised to do all in his power to get a large membership from the clubs in his organization.

DOE LAW FAILS IN NEW YORK.

AFTER trying a general deer law for one season, New York state is going back to the buck law, being convinced that it means the preservation of the deer in that state. Following is a letter written by Gov. Smith to the legislature:

"At the last session the legislature passed and sent to me a bill amending the so-called 'deer law' by providing that a hunter during the open season may take one deer, either buck or doe.

"At the time the bill came before me I gave a public hearing on it and it was agreed all around that we should try it for one season.

"The report of the conservation commission of what has happened under its operation is attached hereto. I would request that it be read, for the information of your honorable bodies. I am satisfied that after reading it you will take up the bills pending in both houses looking to the repeal of last year's law and the substitution of a law providing for the shortening of the season and the taking of one buck."

Briefly, the report of the conservation commission shows that the deer population of the state, prior to the opening of last season, was 50,000 deer; that there were 60,000 deer hunters out last season; that the probability of getting at least a doe; that the number of bucks killed exceeded the number of bucks taken in a buck law year; that the number of does taken has been very much in excess of the number of bucks.

As is the case in other states, accidents increased under the no buck law; when a foolhardy hunter does not have to stop to see what he is shooting at he will take a chance on another man's life. There were sixteen accidental shootings, as compared with four in the last buck law year. From every standpoint the buck law is the only successful deer law ever devised.

Hudson for Five Years the Master in Motor and Style

Hudson Created the Touring Limousine, the Sedan, and Other Distinctive Body Designs, and the Exclusive Super-Six Motor

No other fine car is so well regarded by so many people as the Hudson Super-Six. The proof is everywhere about you. More than 85,000 are now in service, and for five years it has been the world's largest selling fine car.

You will see more Hudson closed and chauffeur-driven cars on the fashionable boulevards than any other make. Observe its predominance in any assemblage of fine cars.

Each body type is noted for handsome appearance and rich completeness of every detail. Hudson created new standards of beauty. All know how its leadership in design is acknowledged. But Hudson's chief appeal must always be in performance.

What Car Can Match Hudson's Proofs?

If any car disputes Hudson's supremacy in speed, endurance, hill climbing or acceleration, it is not by official proof. Hudson history is written in the records of the greatest speed and endurance tests known.

All automobile engineers were seeking ways to reduce motor vibration when Hudson solved the problem with the patented Super-Six motor. It added 72 per cent to power and almost doubled efficiency. No weight or cylinders were added.

The Super-Six at once established its leadership by every avenue open to proof. It became the most famous speed car, winning all important stock car speed records, and with special cars embodying the Super-Six principle it won distinction in all championship speedway events.

It Proves the Endurance You Want in Your Car

But it was not to prove speed that these tests were made. Hudson merely established its speed qualities in development of its value as a reliable, enduring car, such as you want.

And remember, it was chiefly through endurance, made possible by its exclusive motor, that Hudson won these victories. Such tests crowd scores of miles into one. They impose a strain that could be equalled, in ordinary driving, only by years of hard use.

These Tests Helped Build the Present Hudson

These records are three, four and five years old. Yet they have never been matched. And Hudson is a better car today because of what they taught.

Its 7,000 mile run, across the continent and back, in 10 days and 21 hours, and its 24-hour run of 1,819 miles, equalling a distance from New York to a point west of Denver, showed ways to improve the Super-Six.

New metal compositions resulted from these experiences. Ways to overcome minor troubles were discovered. Owners have helped, too. They gave information that led to elimination of faults common to all cars.

But not the slightest change has been made in the Super-Six motor principle. For no way has been found to improve it.

Hudson's Leadership in Sales Holds Unbroken

And because Hudson has found no rival in the five years since it began its record winning career, its sales leadership among all fine cars has been steady and secure.

Hudson production has always been under the demand. This year shows a repetition of the shortage. Immediate deliveries for the most part are out of the question. So to get a Hudson at all this summer calls for early decision.

We suggest that you place your order at once to assure delivery.

3,000 PASTORS MOBILIZE FOR WORLD CHURCH

Masses Must Be Reached, State Leaders Told.

BY THE REV. F. L. GRATIO.

The survey of Chicago and Illinois was the subject last night at the state conference of the 3,000 Illinois pastors gathered in Orchestra hall to consider the interchurch world movement.

Dr. Frank Orman, Beck, director of the Chicago survey, and Dr. R. H. M. Augustus, director of the Illinois survey, were the principal speakers. Dr. Rod- vix Harlan presented the home S. EARL TAYLOR, missions survey.

In the afternoon the survey of foreign missions was presented by the Rev. J. V. Latimer of China, and Dr. Royal J. Dye of Africa.

A women's training conference is being held in Kimball hall simultaneously with the pastors' conference. About 500 women from all parts of the state are in attendance.

Country Recoming Paganized

"Our churches are class institutions," Dr. Augustus said last night. "In an average church in the state 700 members are professional and business people, and fourteen are of the laboring classes. The proportion is fifty to one, and it is all wrong. Something must be done to bring the gospel to the mass of the people, and the mass of the people to the gospel. The country is rapidly becoming paganized."

"Forty per cent of our population lives in Chicago, 20 per cent in cities of over 5,000, and 40 per cent in smaller towns and in the country. Half the population of the larger cities comes from the country, showing the importance of strengthening the work of the churches there."

"In Chicago the churches have practically deserted the downtown district," said Dr. Beck. "On Wabash avenue, where there were formerly eighteen churches, today there are but three."

Dr. Beck showed that in one city block there are fifty-seven houses and only five children, while in another block there are 1,627 families and 3,237 children. He spoke of the vast numbers of foreign born in the city who are practically isolated and had no opportunities to come in contact with American life. The problem of the church, he said, was to give them this opportunity through large community centers, such as are now established in other large cities.

John D. Jr. Here Today.

Dr. Earle Taylor, general secretary of the movement, is expected today and will address the conference. John D. Blocker, Jr. also will be here, and a noon luncheon will be given for him at the Hotel Sherman. He will speak tonight. The conference closes tomorrow afternoon.

One hundred and two county conferences to be held April 6-8 will be conducted by those who are attending this conference.

"We are not seeking organic church union," said the Rev. J. Campbell White, chairman of the conference, in his opening address. "But the vision of the whole world is so vast that the churches can no longer act on a competitive basis. The time is at hand for us to study the world together, educate together, and act together."

Tells Needs of China.

The Rev. J. V. Latimer presented the needs of China, where her 427,000,000 people, touching also on other fields.

"There are millions upon millions of people in Tibet who are hungry for Christianity, and yet only seven living white people have sufficient knowledge of the language to give it to them," he said.

Catholics Made Christians.

In Africa, according to Dr. Royal J. Dye, it is nothing for a man to beat his wife to death. Daily beatings are the custom in many sections. He told many stories of the most remarkable conversions of men and women to Christianity, and how they had been turned into Christians and made effective missionaries.

Dr. Samuel Zwemer of Cairo, Egypt, said that the "whole near eastern sky is lit up with the mixture of Mohammedanism and Bolshevism, and they are uniting against the powers of the west. It is a battle for Christianity, and only concentrated combined missionary action will win out."

"The interchurch world movement proposes three things," said Mrs. E. Cronk, one of the team leaders of the women's training conference. "First, a scientific survey of the world from the standpoint of the responsibility of the evangelical churches; second, a cooperative program adopted to meet the needs; and, third, the securing of men and money to meet the needs. One of the most remarkable experiences of my life was to see the willingness of the women of this country to serve."

Evans Alderman to Run on Sunday Movie Platform

Ad. T. S. Roberts of Evanston, the alderman in the northern suburb, said last night that he would run on a platform of reflection in the fourth ward. He announced that Sunday movies will be the main plank in his campaign, and that he would have filed as Dwight Bobb and John Hawley, First ward; Nazareth, Second ward; Christ Witt and W. B. "HOWDY, FOLKS," AT THE OLYMPIC

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

THE fightin' parson, having watched Azalea, the circus queen, from her heinous environment and accented her in M. S. M. ney's mountain shack, confers with the heavens as to what next he ought to do.

The little lady was unhappy and ingenuous, and the ringmaster was a-hittin' of her with a whip when she was rescued by the indignant clergy. She is pretty, her plight is pitiable, and so the preacher batters the celestial gates with a strenuous petition for suggestions. In the course of his prayer it occurs to him that old man Pace, the mountain miser, has just died intestate. So he announces, as a voice from God, that Azalea is the grand-niece of the deceased, and the heiress to his considerable savings.

MISS LEILA BENNETT

She photographs in "Howdy, Folks," a South Carolina mountain maid.

This rather uncharted posture of character and circumstance should be fertile in fresh, theatrical incident. A circus belle, a rough and dominating vicar of the mountains, bloodthirsty feudists both sinister and comic; a Blue Ridge hero; a glowering sheriff, and other graphic and earthly human outgrowths, should, when they get together on a stage, produce a show.

Guns are pulled to the accompaniment of soft North Carolina curses, a noble boy is wrongfully accused of theft, the preacher himself is suspected of nefarious practices, and even the matrimonial terminus is bedecked with sanguinary horse play. Yet the best that can be said for "Howdy, Folks," is that while it ain't no great shakes as a drama, it affords amusing communion with nature as it is presumed to proceed in the Blue Ridge mountains of North Carolina.

It is one of those plays wherein the author fumbles earnestly for the mysterious combination, and gets it all save one slight turn or two. You feel that everything essential to a good entertainment is there except something. That something, you may suspect, is the sheer luck that makes a popular show of a bad play, as in "Welcome, Stranger"; and that, if Miss Pearl Franklin, the author, had shifted the cards a bit more, she would have found the box office. Writing plays is like shooting craps: one does, or one doesn't. It is a treacherous occupation; and if one fails, one must damn nothing but the dice.

Meanwhile a voice should be lifted in praise of Alphonsus Ethier and the others who act in "Howdy, Folks." Mr. Ethier has just relinquished Lionel Barrymore's Italian role in "The Test" to take up this impersonation of an expedient Blue Ridge evangelist, donning the plumed hat and purple tights of romance for the dusty boots and Prince Albert coat of the mountaineer south. He, in "Howdy, Folks," is "no little

TRAP 2 IN LIFT OF SKYSCRAPER AS FUR THIEVES

"Stop the elevator! Those two men in the cage are thieves!"

Nearly everybody in the Consumers building heard the cry. The elevator man stopped the car between floors, looked up the shaft and waited.

"Run the car up to the seventh floor," he heard, and he obeyed.

There was Oswald Karpf, manager of the W. C. Mahon company, manufacturing furs, surrounded by a group of clerks and salesmen. Karpf rushed into the elevator, and he and the others managed to pull out the two young men.

Detectives Roche, Tapscott, and Gasperik, summoned by the girl on the telephone switchboard, arrived in a few minutes.

"These men," said Karpf, "came in here shortly before 6 o'clock carrying a phony package. They took $2,500 worth of marten skins which were in a package and left their own bundle in place of it."

The prisoners, taken to the detective bureau, said they were Edward Engler of 1655 West Van Buren street and Walter Turk.

Thieves Shoot Victim

Slow in Raising Hands

William Bowers, 55 years old, of 200 South Main street, was stopped last night by two armed thieves in front of 808 West Congress street.

"Stick 'em up and be quick" commanded one.

Bowers obeyed, and the thief fired a shot, wounding him in the back. The other man then robbed Bowers of his watch and $2. Bowers walked home and his wife called in Dr. C. L. Hoffman, 1075 West Roosevelt road, who had him removed to a hospital.

Seek Woman Accused of Kidnaping Two Children

A telegram was received at the detective bureau last night from the authorities of Van Buren, Ark., asking that a search be made for Mrs. Jane Holman, 50 years old, of that place who is wanted on a charge of having kidnapped Dixie and Marion Estes, 4 and 16 years old, respectively. The message stated that Mrs. Holman might appear with the children at the home of a relative residing at 1727 North Sawyer avenue.

Father of Harry D. Murphy, Cartoonist, Found Drowned

Word was received yesterday from Seattle, Wash., of the drowning there of Daniel Murphy, wealthy retired liquor dealer and father of Harry D. Murphy of 5214 Winthrop avenue, a Chicago cartoonist. Mr. Murphy, who was 66 years old, had been in poor mental health.

CASTEN HIMSELF BARED AS DEATH MESSAGE SENDER

Trailed, Alive and Well, Right Up to Wire.

BY FRED PASLEY.

Detroit, Mich., March 8.—[Special.]—Thirty-six hours after Angelus J. Casten had kissed his sweetheart, Miss Mabel Nielsen of Chicago, good-bye he walked into a telegraph office here and sent her a notification that he had been killed, according to competent evidence obtained tonight.

It was at 3:15 o'clock last Wednesday morning that Casten left Chicago via the Michigan Central railroad, riding in the smoker all the way. He was palpably nervous, as the veteran conductor, Patrick McGraw of the relative mind, has so vigorously affirmed. On Thursday morning at precisely 11:43 o'clock Casten entered the main office of the Western Union Telegraph company in Detroit and approached Miss A. M. Rikley, public typist.

"I remember the circumstances because the message was so unusual," she said after she had been shown a large bust photograph of Casten.

Girl Identifies Picture.

"Is that picture familiar?" she was asked.

"Yes, indeed."

"It resembles the man who was here Thursday morning?"

"Yes, I'd almost swear to it."

Miss Rikley, without having been previously informed, said the man was, among other articles, a dark Fedora hat and a dark overcoat, was about 5 feet 10 inches in height, and would weigh between 160 and 170 pounds, all of which fits the description of Casten. He impressed her as being a foreigner, she said.

Her most remarkable observation had to do with a postal card he carried. It was addressed to some woman, she remembered.

"And the address was in light blue ink and looked fresh, as if it had just been written," she added.

The reader will recall that a postal card bearing "Miss Mabel Nielsen's name and address was among the effects listed in the fake death telegram."

Sends Word of Own Death.

Asked to detail the circumstances of the supposed Casten's visit, Miss Rikley said he had approached her desk and asked "where she would take a message." He had a number of papers in his hand. The telegram he sent read in part:

"The body of a man found on the Michigan Central tracks few miles out of city identified from papers in his pockets as that of S. A. J. Casten. Postal card ready to be mailed to your address. Accidentally killed by train."

AMERICA.

Miss Rikley's disclosures serve to direct attention to circumstances of the case hitherto overlooked. Chief among these is the fact that neither Miss Nielsen nor Casten's sister or brother-in-law knew anything concerning the man whom Casten was to visit in Detroit other than that he was Karl Carson or Karl Carson—they weren't sure which.

A two day canvass of the Carl Carsons and the Karis, as well as of the Carl Carsons of Detroit, has failed to disclose any man of either name who could be identified as Casten's friend.

No Clues in Washington.

Likewise as concerned the Washington, D. C., angle. None of the family knew the names of any officials, or even of the departments Casten was supposed to communicate with to obtain back royalties of $7,000 for his depth bomb chemical invention. A check of all government bureaus at Washington by THE TRIBUNE failed to disclose any one who ever had heard of Casten.

The latter facts were communicated to Miss Nielsen as she sat in an invalid chair last Saturday night, but she still maintained that "Angel has been kidnapped and those brutes are holding him for ransom."

Father of Harry D. Murphy, Cartoonist, Found Drowned

Word was received yesterday from Seattle, Wash., of the drowning there of Daniel Murphy, wealthy retired liquor dealer and father of Harry D. Murphy of 5214 Winthrop avenue, a Chicago cartoonist. Mr. Murphy, who was 66 years old, had been in poor mental health.

WONDER WHAT THE HEAD WAITER THINKS ABOUT

BEG YOUR PARDON!

Referring to an item reporting the dismissal of Evanston school teachers Miss Evelyn Houghton explains that her contract with the Evanston school board expires June 12 and she has not considered reemployment in the fall.

The explosion of gas from a water heater was reported as the cause of a fire in the house of Frank Cuneo, 4848 Sheridan road. Investigators have reported that the gas appliance was not at fault, but that the explosion probably resulted from other gases generated by fire in a linen chute.

31,500 BUY 5 CT. LUNCHES DAILY; $167,000 IS ASKED

"The largest, cheapest, most popular chain of restaurants in Chicago."

Such might be the advertising line of the board of education if it were not trying to discourage patronage. This chain of seventy lunch rooms is the outcome of the once modest penny lunch. But the penny lunch is no more. The nickel luncheon has supplanted it. Dr. Frank Bruner, director of school lunches, is asking the board of education for $167,000 for the work in 1920. Last year the lunch rooms cost $46,382 and the year before $20,850. This sum is for equipment and service only, as five cents covers the cost of the food.

Soup and a sandwich represented the old penny lunch. Now the children have considerable choice. The next course is a baked dish. There is a choice between at least two dishes which include macaroni, beans, spaghetti, rice or meat. Bread goes with the luncheon. Each child is given four slices, with peanut butter or jam. Dessert may be ice cream, bread pudding, prunes, a doughnut, chocolate pudding or cookies.

Only children who can get all the food they need at home are not permitted to eat at school. There is a daily attendance of about 31,500. That is an average of 450 for each school.

SHIPPY VERSES A BIT "TO SET HIMSELF RIGHT"

Los Angeles, Cal., March 8.—[Special.]—Lee Shippey, Kansas poet, "Y" war worker, and lately in evidence in print incident to defending himself over his affair with Miss Babin, which cost him a home on a big Kansas City newspaper, has taken recourse in verse to set himself right with his fellow men.

Captioned "When Other Folks Go Wrong," he says:

"I'm kind of a 'forgiver' case when other folks go wrong. I'm kind of a 'forgiver' case when other folks go wrong. I'm kind of a 'forgiver' case when other folks go wrong."

At altogether there are thirty-two rhymed lines in his apology.

O'BRIEN LETTER BLOWS UP ROAD TO WIN FREEDOM

Longs to Escape Cell, Kill Police, Rob.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

A letter intercepted by Jailor Will Davies, telling of William "Bull" O'Brien's plan to escape from Jail and "kill every copper he can find," gave a rude shock yesterday to some of those who are trying at the eleventh hour to help O'Brien. Miss Anna Malloy, a social worker said to have wealthy interests backing her, was preparing to show Judge Oscar Hebel, who sentenced O'Brien for an auto theft, credentials indicating O'Brien is not 21 and cannot be sent to a penitentiary. These will be presented today, she announced.

Miss Malloy says "these poor, ignorant, misguided souls would go straight" if they were given a chance. But "Bull's" reply to this is neatly framed in the intercepted letter that was started on what he thought was a safe journey to a "pal" in his neighborhood—John Hasty of 3722 Lowe avenue.

Thirsts to Kill Police.

"I'm full of h—," O'Brien wrote, "and I'll be there when I get out. So have a forty-five ready for me, and about five boxes of Jugs, and four extra magazines, and I'll chase every cop I meet. I'll shoot the stars from their coats."

"I like a gun fight. I had one on Twelfth street one day. I guess you read about it, or you know it by this time. I didn't want to leave, and I didn't, until we had only three bullets left."

"Do you remember the day we were going to hold up the whole state yards? Say, wasn't that a —? The gun I had was poor, but I could pound on their top pieces with it. I had the secret of — to do that, didn't I? I give them a fair chance, and if they don't take it they take lead or steel. But I get their dough and diamonds anyway."

"Tell [looks like Dotie] Kelly to send his kid after me to bring me home. Ask him if he remembers the day of the stickup. I have to laugh every time I think of it."

"I'll come home shortly and be at it again, but I'll have a machine and a car. And they'll never take me alive."

Admits Auto Theft.

O'Brien, a brother of "Smiling Jack," who was hanged recently as the slayer of Policeman Richard Burke, pleaded guilty in Judge Hebel's court on Feb. 27 to a charge of stealing an auto belonging to Otto Freund of 5454 Kimbark avenue. At first he had insisted he was not guilty.

IS EVANSTON MOTORISTS FINED.

Thirteen motorists in Evanston were taken into custody yesterday afternoon and fined $5 each on charges of failing to stop at a boulevard intersection.

OVERSEAS HERO CHEERS TENANTS ON IN RENT WAR

Thousand Join League to Fight Profiteers.

"I helped whip the greatest of landlords—the former Kaiser—and I call upon you to help me whip the landlords of Chicago."

C. E. Dowd of 1422 Lunt avenue, an overseas veteran, stirred nearly 1,200 flat dwellers of Rogers Park with this statement last night at a meeting at the Eugene Field school, Ashland and Lunt avenues.

When the meeting closed nearly 1,000 of those present had joined the Rogers Park Tenants' Protective association and more than 100 were turned away with the request that they mail their applications to J. A. Erickson, secretary, 718 Reaper block. It was explained that the application blanks had all been used up.

Urges Tenants' "Army."

"If I was able to take part in the great world war for democracy I surely can battle profiteering landlords," Dowd continued. "I'm tired of being gouged, and I think you are, too. Build an organization like the army. That will stop profiteering."

Cries of "Go to it!" "Lead us on!" and "Down with the rent profiteers!" came from every section of the hall.

It wouldn't be a bad idea to have our organization draw up its own leaves," said J. E. Jessurun, another speaker. "That would help us to get our rights. The landlords' leaves contain nothing in favor of the tenants." William F. Forkel aroused cheers when he said "profiteers are making anarchists of men who are honest at heart."

"If it keeps on," he added, "the children as well as the wives and husbands will be deprived of many necessities in order to pay the rent."

The Aldermen Pledge Aid.

Ald. Mulcahy, chairman of the city council's rent committee, pledged the aid of his colleagues in the tenants' movement and Ald. Link made an address. Others who spoke were Maj. H. S. Standish, A. L. Wheeler, chairman, and Aldermen Robert Turley and W. E. Rodriguez.

An executive meeting of organizations from every neighborhood center in Chicago, for the purpose of combining in a huge city association, will be held in a few days, it was announced.

Both Sides Win Suit.

Both sides in the first rent case to reach a Chicago jury claimed a victory yesterday afternoon after attorneys and one of the principals emerged from the chambers of Judge Daniel F. Trade. A settlement was effected between Mrs. Ida S. Hyden of 54 Westmont avenue, a tenant, and Miss Olga Ruthenberg, Mrs. Hyden's landlady, and the jury was cheered out of an opportunity to pass on the evidence.

Mrs. Hyden emphatically announced that Miss Ruthenberg had agreed to make necessary repairs on the house and give her the lease which she had signed for two years. She in turn agreed to pay the two years' rent, which she had held back, she said, pending Miss Ruthenberg's agreement to make the repairs.

Among those who reported rent raises that they declared excessive was R. J. Ahrens, a tenant in a six flat apartment building at 835 Leland avenue. He declares Baird & Warner, the agents, have asked a 100 per cent increase for Viola Flanders, owner.

GOTHAM MAYOR OFFERS HELP TO RENT STRIKERS

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—

Any tenant threatened with an increase in rent who wants to join a war on profiteering landlords may receive support from the city by applying to room 1220, Municipal building, which is the headquarters of the mayor's committee on rent profiteering.

Should the threatened increase be found unreasonable the tenant will be advised to go on a rent strike. The landlord will be subpoenaed and told that his premises will be invaded by a horde of tenement house inspectors if he persists in demanding the increase.

The fact that New York officially is conducting a rent strike developed today after James F. Gannon Jr., director of revenue and finance of Jersey City, told the mayor how the Jersey City authorities had helped tenants in a city-wide strike and how more than 8,500 profiteering landlords had been induced to yield without the formality of going into court.

EVANSTON'S LONE FOOTPADS HALT 2 MORE WOMEN

Two more women were held up by lone footpads in Evanston, Sunday night. Miss Frieda Pruter, 1714 Lake street, Evanston, was held up at Grove street and Wesley avenue by a man who grabbed her handbag, containing several dollars, and escaped.

Mrs. Pearl House, 2023 Pratt street, was on her way to visit her husband at St. Francis hospital when she was stopped by a man at Elmwood and Oakland streets. The man attempted to snatch her purse but Mrs. House held on to it and screamed. Her cries attracted a policeman and the thief fled.

This makes about a dozen women victimized by lone highwaymen in Evanston within the last two months.

DISAPPEARANCE OF GRAIN SHOWN BY U. S. REPORTS

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

The government report on farm reserves showed the most remarkable disappearance of grain during the past winter in the history of the trade. From July 1 to March 1 there was 646,000,000 bushels of wheat consumed or exported, compared with 590,000,000 bushels the previous season, although exports have been 60,000,000 bushels less than last year, and supplies at the beginning of the season were 57,000,000 bushels more.

Consumption of corn aggregated 1,836,000,000 bu. in the last four months, or 121,000,000 bu. more than last year and 66,000,000 bu. in excess of two years ago, when supplies were 110,000,000 bu. more. Of oats consumption aggregated 1,035,000,000 bu., or 10,000,000 bu. in excess of two years ago, and compared with 1,061,000,000 bu. last year. The two leading feed grains, with supplies 47,000,000 bu. less than two years ago, showed a consumption of 75,000,000 bu. more. Reserves of barley were also small.

Grain markets were nervous, with an advance to a high level on all corn features except May, and closed at a fair figure from the top. New gains were 20 3/4c on corn, 50 1/2c on oats, unchanged to 1/2c higher on rye, and the highest on barley. Northwestern markets were not strong on corn and the northwestern markets and Winnipeg were also lagging as compared with Chicago.

New High on Corn.

Efforts of the bears to check the bulge in corn were without avail, the lowest prices being made early and the highest toward the last. All deliveries with the exception of May sold at a new high on the crop. Numerous stop loss orders were uncovered on the way up. It was easier to trace selling than the buying. Many of the local traders sold heavily around $1.46 for May and profit taking was strongly in evidence, but after the decision of the Supreme court that stock dividends were not taxable there was a stampede of the bears.

The most effective selling on the extreme upturn was against offers. The announcement that the grain corporation could sell flour and wheat to Europe without authority of congress was also a factor in the situation.

Legs Sell Oats Freely.

While oats futures advanced with corn to within a fraction of the highest price of the season, the undertone was distinctly heavy, due to persistent selling by bears. Closing trades were on a reaction of 5/8c from the top. Premiums on cash oats in the sample market were under toward the last, although about half of the 7 1/2c received were applied to arrive contracts.

Seaboard exporters advanced rye bids 1/2c and secured 25,000 bu. at Minneapolis at 1 1/2c over May, track Baltimore, a new high on the crop. Cash houses and local traders were fair sellers of futures, and the close was rather easy. France was reported as trying to resell rye at Duluth, although New York claimed that there was nothing in the story. No 3 on track to over May.

Barley unchanged to 1/2c higher. Demand fair and offerings light. Spot sales were at $1.46 1/2c. Receipts 14 cars.

Lard Feeds Advance.

Lard advanced on buying by local and eastern houses, while packers sold both lard and ribs liberally at times without checking the upward movement. The close was about the top, with gains of 3 1/2c on lard, 1/2c on ribs, and 1/2c on cash lard were at the under May and 50,000 bu. leaf at $22.00. Advance in corn and a stronger hog market were the main factors. Trade in ribs was light, but gains were moderate, while pork was up 60/100. Prices follow:

Decisions of the United States Supreme court yesterday, together with January foreign trade figures, should tend to improve and encourage business sentiment throughout the country. The decision of the court was that the interstate commerce commission, in fixing the valuation of the railroads, shall consider the value of the property, less cost of condemnation and damages or of purchase in excess of such original cost of present value. This means that the commission will have to base its valuation on the cost of condemnation or buying land in excess of the present value of such land as estimated by the commission.

Means Higher Rates. Since the return to be allowed the railroads is to be based on valuation, any increase in the valuation of investments in railroad property would mean that the income of the lines would be correspondingly increased. To carry out this increase means higher freight or passenger rates and earnings, which is anticipated will restore their credit, enable them to sell bonds, improve their equipment and roadbed, and thus enter a period of prosperity.

It is traditional in this country that when the railroads prosper, other lines of business prosper because of the large expenditures made by the railroads when operating under favorable conditions. The January report of the foreign trade of this country indicates a large increase in imports. It is more especially important that there was a gain in the goods received from Great Britain. In the latter instance it suggests a substantial basis for the increase in the value of the pound sterling. On enhancement of the market price of that exchange depends our ability to successfully trade with Great Britain and work off surplus home production.

At the current price of sterling the discount of roughly 25 per cent is too much to overcome after necessity on the part of British buyers has ceased to exist.

But if the export business of Great Britain in the current year is to exceed by $1,000,000,000 the value of its imports the country may be considered to be fast getting into a position where the pound sterling will approximate its pre-war value. It appears reasonable to believe that if the British pound showed a discount of but 10 per cent there would remain a trading margin that could be absorbed in profits. A discount of 10 per cent would mean roughly 45 per cent on the pound, or a price of $4.38 per pound. An advance to this quotation does not seem to be out of reasonable reckoning.

Readjustment Less Drastic. The fact that has been experienced in this country with reference to trade stagnation has developed from prospective inability to export goods to Europe because of the depreciation in foreign money. If this fear is to be lifted through a warranted turn in the trend of exchange, then the readjustment of the cost of production of goods to new conditions will be less drastic.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Stockholders of the St. Louis Motor Car corporation will vote on March 26 on a proposal to increase the capital stock from 100,000 to 120,000 shares. Subject to approval of this proposal, a stock dividend of 20 per cent will be declared.

Stockholders of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco company have voted to set aside 5 per cent of the authorized issue of common and preferred stock to be sold at 100 cents to the holders of the common stock of the company.

There will be a special meeting of the stockholders of the Western Electric company on March 10 in connection with the payment of the present outstanding preferred stock, and on March 22 another special meeting will be held for the purpose of authorizing a new issue of $50,000,000 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, $35,000,000 of which will be used to take the place of the present 6 per cent preferred stock outstanding.

The Ochsman Electric Co. is offering publicly through a brokers' syndicate $1,000,000 of new cumulative convertible preferred stock. The stock is convertible at any time at the option of the holder into common stock at the basis of two shares of common for each share of preferred stock.

Alfred P. Peters, Inc. announces the permanent coupon bonds of the twenty-year term with a 6 per cent interest rate and a 5 per cent coupon rate. The company is not ready and holding of the temporary bonds may purchase the permanent bonds at the office of the National Trust company of New York.
